Troop Withdrawal Key Question In Truce Talks

Government Rushes Generous Help For Flood-Ravaged Areas

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(AP)—The federal government moved today to rush generous aid to the flood-stricken areas of Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma.

Congress voted a $25,000,000 fund. President Truman said this was only preliminary money to meet the immediate situation. He signed the bill as soon as it reached his desk.

During his aerial trip the president saw at least 1,000,000 acres that were inundated or had been under water. His plane flew over the flooded industrial districts, wrecked bridges, smashed residential areas and ruined farms.

Death Toll 23

Damage in Missouri and Kansas alone has been estimated in excess of $750,000,000 — and receding waters are uncovering additional losses daily. The death toll is 23.

High waters continued to drop in the Kansas City area, and in flooded eastern and central Kansas and northeastern Oklahoma.

The river already has caused an estimated $750,000 damage in the St. Louis waterfront.

The Missouri river, which spread over thousands of acres in Missouri, was pouring a torrent of water into the Mississippi. The two great rivers join north of St. Louis.

Much of the water was the run-off of Missouri and Kansas rivers that earlier had inundated an estimated 2,000,000 acres in the two states.

St. Louis waterfront business houses had their employes sandbagging and moving merchandise to higher ground.

Spending Dims Hopes To Trim Tax Increase

By JOHN HALL

WASHINGTON— (AP) —Senator Byrd (D-Va) indicated today that government spending plans for next year have dimmed his hopes the Senate can trim the $7,200,000,000 tax hike passed by the House.

Byrd also said he does not see where Congress could find the new taxes to balance the $85,000,000,000 budget proposed for the year starting next July 1.

The Virginian is acting chairman of the Senate finance committee which continues its hearings today on the House measure. Senator George (D-Ga). the chairman, has gone home for a two-week visit.

When the committee started hearings on the bill weeks ago, Byrd indicated he thought the tax increase might be held below $5,000,000,000 without unbalancing the budget in the current fiscal year.

But the senator told newsmen today this was before he heard the administration's $85,000,000,000 spending estimate for the fiscal 1953—the year when defense outlays are expected to hit their peak.

Any surplus generated this year would help in meeting a fiscal 1953 deficit. This deficit could be as high as $17,000,000,000 even if Congress accepts President Truman's plea for a $10,000,000,000 tax hike this year.

Byrd said it would be virtually impossible to balance an $85,000,000,000 budget. To do so, he said, would mean going into some highly unpalatable tax field such as a transactions levy. This would be worse than a sales tax, he said, since it would be applied at each stage in the manufacture of a product.

The Virginia senator did not shut the door to a reduction in the House tax bill, however. If $4,000,000,000 or $5,000,000,000 can be cut off this year's budget, he said, the tax bite can be reduced, too.

Cities Criticize Civil Defense

Mayors Deplore Lack Of Federal Action

EAST LANSING—(AP)—Michigan municipal officials criticized federal and state civil defense programs here yesterday.

The city heads, meeting at the Michigan State College government workshop, criticized the federal and state government for their lack of an adequate program of civil defense.

"Civil defense has no national policy except that of doing a lot of talking and not much acting," said Battle Creek Mayor William V. Bailey.

"Municipalities just can't take care of federal and state demands for civil defense," Bailey said. "When Washington says civil defense is as important as military defense and then appropriates only $31,000,000 for civil defense compared to $70,000,000,000 for military defense, I begin to wonder."

Lansing Mayor Ralph Crego said civil defense is a peacetime pursuit as far as Lansing is concerned. Lansing city officials are not worrying too much about bombs, he said.

"We have taken civil defense seriously in Detroit because of the critical nature of the city," said Detroit Controller John Witherspoon.

"Detroit is about as well organized as any city in the nation for civil defense," Witherspoon said. "We are not as secure in our feeling about attack as the federal congress seems to be."

Famous Dublin Theater Burns

Fire Razes Training Ground For Stars

DUBLIN, Ireland—(AP)—The Abbey theater—birthplace of Irish revolutionary drama and for nearly half a century training ground for some of the world's greatest stage stars—burned to the ground early today.

The main building was gutted by a fierce blaze that defied the efforts of five brigades of firemen to save the historic landmark in the heart of Dublin.

The cast of Sean O'Casey's "the Plough and the Stars", showing at the Abbey this week, managed to carry to safety valuable paintings and art objects from the burning structure.

The theater was the home of the famed Abbey players, whose graduates have gone on to triumphs on the stages of London and New York and the film sets of Hollywood.

Barry Fitzgerald, who achieved his greatest stage success in "The Plough and Stars," began his career there.

The theater, which had a capacity of only about 150, was once the city morgue. The theater itself was founded in 1904 with funds supplied by Annie Horniman, a British tea heiress who later withdrew her support.

Cicero Lands In Headlines With A Bang

Days Of Al Capone In 1926 Recalled

BY WILLIAM J. CONWAY

CICERO, Ill.—(AP)—Cicero seldom lands on page one—but, when it does, it's with a bang.

The town at the western edge of Chicago goes about its business for years in the obscuring shadow of its big urban neighbor. Then it is seized by a spasm of violence, and it's in the bright light of national attention.

The spotlight swung back to Cicero last week. Harvey E. Clark, a Negro bus driver who says he didn't know that no Negroes lived in the community, tried to move into an apartment there.

Bullets Rake Hotel

A series of disorders by rock-heaving mobs erupted into a riot. National Guard troops and police have put an end to the demonstrations, but they're still patrolling the battered apartment building.

News of the sensational sort began to come out of Cicero in 1925. "Scarface Al" Capone made it the capital of his whisky-women-and-gambling empire.

Capone established his G. H. Q. in the Hawthorne Arms hotel. Early one morning three auto loads of gunners raked the place with machine gun fire. The number of bullets was estimated, in round numbers, at 1,000. None of them hit Capone.

Citizens heard similar sound effects on other occasions. But none had a more shocking impact on law-abiding citizens than the sputtering eh-eh-eh-eh that issued from a gun barrel on the

Pink Millionaire Is Back In Jail

Convicted Reds Look For Untainted Bail

NEW YORK — (AP) — Millionaire leftist Frederick Vanderbilt Field was back in jail today, for an indefinite stay.

But unlike his first trip behind bars earlier this month, the great great grandson of Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt had company in the case of the "bail angels" for four fugitive convicted top Communists.

Two of his fellow trustees for the Civil Rights Congress bail fund—mystery writer Dashiell Hammett and W. Alphaeus Hunton—also languished in cells as involuntary guests of the federal government.

In addition, they had the company of 11 second-string Red leaders whose Civil Rights Congress bail was revoked Monday.

For the Reds, the prospects of release were rosier. They could obtain their freedom as soon as they supplied bail acceptable to the government. They needed a total of $140,000 "untainted" bail money.

But for Field, Hammett and Hunton, their confinement on contempt of court sentences had indications of being extended. Their temporary bail, pending appeal, was canceled yesterday by Federal appeals judges.

Detroit Scraps 1946 Temporary Housing

DOWAGIAC, Mich. — (AP) — City officials moved today to scrap the 16-unit temporary housing project that was built with federal funds for veterans in 1946.

Labeling the project a fire hazard and badly in need of costly repairs, the city council notified occupants that they would have to find other living quarters.

However, no eviction date was set.

The city plans eventually to tear down the project.

Beef Rollbacks Saved But Arguments Delay Controls Extension

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House voted today to forbid price controls on meat which do not allow packers and processors a "reasonable" profit.

The vote was 160 to 144 on an unrecorded teller count.

The House action, subject to another vote later when a final rollcall is taken, upset the administration forces that yesterday won a battle in the fight to save the beef price rollback.

Assailed by administration Democrats as the "anti-consumer amendment," it provides that:

No ceiling shall be set on products from processing of cattle and calves, lambs, sheep and hogs which does not allow for a reasonable margin of profit to each segment of industry as a group on each type of animal.

The amendment was offered by Rep. Cole (R-Kans.) and had almost solid Republican backing with some help from Southern Democrats.

Yesterday the administration forces had salvaged the ten per cent beef price rollback with Republican help.

Still due for a decision — possibly today — is a proposal to curb the labor disputes powers of the Wage Stabilization Board, and to revise it so as to place the public members in the majority over labor and industry. Most unions oppose the idea.

Administration leaders were frankly uncertain of the outcome of the wage board amendment. At best, they predicted a close vote either way.

With the bitter price control fight out of the way, leaders put on the heat to wind up debate by tomorrow and send the measure to conference with the Senate, which passed a different bill.

The vote to keep the beef rollback left the door open to similar rollbacks of some other agricultural prices and would place no restrictions on the government's power to turn industrial prices back.

Chicago Killing Proves Mystery

No Motive In Slaying Of Plant Executive

CHICAGO— (AP) —Police delved into the business and personal affairs of Charles Crane, 37, a wealthy paper company executive, today as they hunted a motive for his mysterious slaying.

"We have no clues at all," said Lieut. John Golden, chief of homicide detectives. "The motive may have died with him."

Crane, who in 10 years rose from a $50 a week dock hand to virtual operator of the Thomas Paper Stock company which grosses from $6,000,000 to $8,000,000 a year, was shot to death yesterday.

Crane was sitting in his car outside the company plant in the Goose Island district—on the city's near northwest side — when a green-shirted gunman approached. He fired two shots. The bullets struck Crane's face and head at close range, killing him instantly.

The gunman fled to a car parked nearby and drove away with a companion. The plant is at 1500 North Hooker street, a dirt road that cuts through factories and rail tracks of the industrial island on the Chicago River. Police said three men heard two shots and saw the slayer running from Crane's car.

Police said Crane was on three years' probation in federal court after pleading guilty in 1949 in a $1,267,512 income tax case against the paper company and its president, Alvin E. Sandroff, 49.

Sandroff, who also pleaded guilty and was sentenced to prison for two years, was paroled last September because of ill health. Crane paid $22,000 of a tax liability of $24,558.

Detroit Nursemaid And $4,000 Missing

DETROIT — (AP) — Police are searching today for a missing nursemaid and $4,000 cash and $4,500 worth of clothing and jewelry.

Authorities identified the maid sought as Mrs. Jean Craig, 24.

Mrs. David Fenton said Mrs. Craig had been employed two and a half months as a nursemaid for Mrs. Fenton's six-months-old daughter, Sidonie. She said that the maid, two suitcases and the jewelry and clothing had been missing since Sunday night.

Gunman Quelled By Camera Man

Photographer Saves Detroit Policeman

DETROIT — (AP) — A bespectacled newspaper photographer jumped into a fight to help a policeman friend early today.

He came out the winner, too—even took a gun away from an adversary about twice his size.

In a ruckus one policeman had been shot and wounded.

Arthur (Art) Emanuel, 39, photographer for the Detroit bureau of the Associated Press, was having lunch with two policemen at 2:30 a. m. when a trouble call came in for the officers. Emanuel went along in his own car.

The patrolmen, Michael Barnas and Eugene Dlubiez, found a drunken man apparently sleeping it off on a lawn.

They loaded him into their scout car. Suddenly he came to and started a furious fight. He jerked Barnas' revolver from the officer's holster and fired several shots. Barnas was shot in the leg.

At that point Emanuel went into action.

All five feet-seven of him, he dived head first into the car, seized the man's gunhand, and took the gun away with a judo trick.

Emanuel administered a few sharp raps with the revolver on the head of his husky six-foot adversary, knocking all the fight out of him.

One Main Issue Not Yet Ironed Out In Korea

Language Difficulties Slow Up Discussion

(By The Associated Press)

One major issue remains to be ironed out by Communist and United Nations cease-fire negotiators attempting to frame a Korean armistice agenda, U. S. army spokesmen said today.

The Korean armistice delegations at Kaesong have reached agreement on some agenda items and "some additional progress" was reported today.

Compromise Possible

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief U. N. negotiator, accepted Communist wording for two agenda items to speed the slow-moving discussions.

Some observers speculated a compromise might be worked out to settle the present stumbling block which they thought might be withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea. The Reds want this on the agenda. The United Nations command does not.

"Agreement on this key point is essential to the successful completion of the first phase of the negotiation" a U. N. announcment said.

Today's session lasted two hours and 50 minutes and another session is scheduled for tomorrow.

Hostility Grows

The meeting moved rather ponderously because of the language difficulties. Discussions are being held in the English, Chinese and North Korean languages and much time is taken up in translation. The negotiators are still trying to agree on the scope of the cease-fire.

United Nations correspondents who visited Kaesong said there was a growing hostility in the city compared with earlier North Korean attempts at fraternization. North Korean soldiers shooed civilians away from the U. N. newsmen. The correspondents, after last week's protests, were given freedom of the city but were not permitted in the conference room.

Meanwhile U. N. troops near the Kaesong conference area kept a wary eye on Communist army buildups northeast of the city. U. N. planes flew 830 sorties yesterday including 11 at night. Air-

Air Warning System Manned By 25,000 In U. S. And Canada

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Almost 25,000 air force radar men now are on steady watch at stations and control centers in the United States and Canada to detect the approach of any strange and possibly hostile planes.

The aircraft warning system has reached the point where it is 97 per cent manned, the Associated Press was told by officials today.

Three years ago, in the days of economy and before the swift buildup of military strength which started with the Korean war, only about 3,000 to 4,000 men were in the entire warning system. That system then consisted of a few, isolated defense areas where radar scanning of the skies was conducted part time. There was no coordinated warning system.

However, the fact that warning stations now are almost fully manned does not mean that the U. S. has all the warning system it plans or wants or that the equipment used at those stations all is necessarily modern.

The air force's air raid warning organization is composed of 12 groups of regular troops and three of federalized air national guard outfits. This does not necessarily mean there are only 15 stations; each group has personnel enough to man a number of stations.

The exact number of warning stations and control centers and their locations are secrets.

The stations in the U. S. and Alaska work with those of Canada under the mutual Canadian-U. S. defense plan.

Russia Promotes Peace Offensive To Ease Tension

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON — (AP)—American diplomats look for Russia to put forth a major diplomatic proposal in the next few weeks to promote its current "peace offensive" and raise new hopes for easing East-West tensions.

One possibility foreseen in speculation here is a proposal for a big power meeting, including Red China, to settle far eastern questions. This would logically follow any firm agreement to end the fighting in Korea.

Tactics Analyzed

In a statement on a new English language magazine which has just been published in Moscow, the state department asserted last night that current Soviet "peace propaganda" efforts are designed to "lull free nations to sleep."

This government's experts in Soviet maneuvering say the Kremlin now apparently intends to try to gain by demonstrations of friendliness a slow-down or disruption of efforts by the free nations to strengthen their power.

One obvious specific objective for such Kremlin tactics would be to delay or discredit the signing of a Japanese peace treaty which is proposed by the U. S. for San Francisco in early September. Treaty completion is one of the foundations of American policy for building up defensive power in the western Pacific.

Opposition Undermined

Another objective would be to try to weaken the anti-Communist alliance in the European area. The Russians may hope to accomplish this by (1) exploiting differences in American and British far eastern policies and (2) Minimizing fear of Communist conquest in Europe and exploiting French distate for German rearmament.

The issuance of the new Russian magazine "News" is only one incident which diplomats here take into account in estimating what the Russians are up to. Another is that Russia took the lead in suggesting Korean armistice negotiations.

Stambaugh Minister Tells Of Wandering As Amnesia Victim

WAUSAU, Wis.—(AP) — After a "terrible ordeal" with amnesia the Rev. Vernon S. Blackwell was assumed en route to rejoin his wife in Illinois today.

He was believed, however, to have left for East Peoria, Ill., to meet his wife, Eletha.

Car Collision Blamed

For more than three months Rev. Blackwell had been unheard from.

He told of having "blacked out" in an auto collision April 8. On his way from his Stambaugh, Mich., pastorate to a Methodist postgraduate course at Owosso, Mich.

Since, he said, he had wandered in states "from Massachusetts to Colorado," doing odd jobs to get along.

The minister was recognized in a bank here yesterday by James Maher, a salesman from Minneapolis. Maher had married a member of Blackwell's parish.

"I've been through a terrible ordeal," Maher quoted Rev. Blackwell as saying.

Maher told police. Blackwell checked out of the YMCA here, meanwhile. He had stayed at the Y under the name of John Klock.

Police Chief Everett Gleason said he assumed that Blackwell had left for East Peoria where his wife and son have been living since he disappeared.

Fawn Restores Memory

Maher said that when he spoke to the minister at the bank the latter remembered him, called him by name, an explained that he had just recovered his memory.

Rev. Blackwell telephoned his successor at Stambaugh, the Rev. N. Ralph Guilliatt.

"He told me he had just come to," Rev. Guilliatt said.

Rev. Blackwell was said to have credited a glimpse of a fawn in a woods with helping to revive his memory.

Mrs. Blackwell said last night at East Peoria that she had talked with her husband by phone and that he said he would explain his absence when he sees her.

Communists Wipe Off Their Smiles At Peace Session

By NATE POLOWETZKY

KAESONG, Korea — (AP) — Newsmen and cameramen with the United Nations truce delegation could feel growing hostility of Communist soldiers, policemen and Koreans here today.

Instead of smiles, as on previous days, newsmen drew sullen glances. There was shy, frightened evasion of the cameras and the ever-present Red soldiers and police shooed away the groups of curious.

Correspondents attributed the change of attitude by Kaesong's population to efforts of their Communist rulers to discourage any show of friendliness.

Archie Bazinet Gets Probation

Charge Against Honkonen Dropped

Archie Bazinet of Rock was placed on probation for two years by Circuit Judge Glenn W. Jackson following Bazinet's plea of guilty to a charge of breaking and entering in the night time.

Robert Honkonen, 20, of Rock, also arrested for breaking and entering, was released from custody upon a motion of nolle prosequi by Prosecuting Attorney J. C. McGonagle. It was reported that state police made a re-investigation of the case and absolved the youth.

John J. Robitaille, who was returned from Fond du Lac, Wisconsin Tuesday by Deputy Bill Butler, will be arraigned before Judge Jackson on a contempt charge, an outgrowth of failure to meet alimony terms of the court.

Raymond Oliver Wittkoff, charged with taking indecent liberties with a minor, was arraigned in court but no plea was entered. Judge Jackson appointed Attorney John Root to represent Wittkoff.

Upon motions of Prosecutor McGonagle, three cases were remanded to justice court. They are Jack M. Nelson, charged with violation of a Gladstone milk ordinance; Joseph Peters, charged with unlawfully driving away an automobile without intent to steal; and Joseph Goodwill, also charged with unlawfully driving away an automobile without intent to steal. The latter two cases were remanded to justice court for preliminary examinations.

A circuit court jury Tuesday night returned a verdict of judgement in the amount of $940.15 for the plaintiffs, Malcolm Thompson and Elizabeth Thompson, living near Trenary, against Sam Goldstein of Marinette. The case was the outgrowth of a sale of eight head of cattle by Goldstein to the Thompsons and later repossessed by Goldstein when the Thompsons were visiting in Oregon.

Permits Required For Employment Of Juvenile Workers

Ronald H. Koth, proprietor of the A & W Drive-In restaurant, Escanaba charged with violating the Hittle juvenile employment act, by employing minors between 14 and 18 years of age without official work permits, pleaded guilty Tuesday afternoon when brought befort Henry E. Ranguette, justice of the peace, at Escanaba and paid a $50.00 fine and $8.25 costs.

The complaint was made by T. A. Nevala of Marquette, deputy inspector for the Michigan department of labor who warned employers that no minor under 18 years of age shall be employed, permitted or suffered to work in, about, or in connection with any gainful occupation, not excepted by this act, unless and until the person employing such minor shall procure from the minor and keep on file a work permit for each minor so employed, issued by the superintendent of schools of any school district in which such minor resides, or in all other districts by the county superintendent of school, or by some person duly authorized in writing by such superintendent. No work permit shall be issued to any minor under the age of 14 years.

No work permit shall be issued for the employment of any minor under 18 years of age until the employer has been issued an occupational approval number. The commissioner of labor, John Reid, of the department of labor, shall issue occupational approval numbers to employers authorizing employment of minors in gainful occupations not injurious to health or morals or unduly hazardous. Applications for approval of occupations for minors are made on the official form supplied by the department of labor, East Lansing.

The school official authorized to issue valid work permits shall issue the same only upon application in person by the minor desiring employment. The minor must procure from the employer a completed offer of employment and request for work permit form.

Inquest To Be Held In Crash

Accident Occurred Near Green Bay

An inquest will be held in the death of Kinney Nelson, 43, of Minneapolis, who was killed shortly after midnight Saturday. when his car collided with a Clairmont Transfer company truck about seven miles north of Green Bay.

Bernard Bertrand, Brown county, Wis., district attorney, said no date could be set for the inquest until he has located all witnesses, including passengers in a Greyhound bus which was also at the scene.

Meanwhile, officers questioned T. O. Williams, of Escanaba, driver of the bus, who said that he was turning out to pass a car when he saw the Clairmont truck approaching. He then swerved back to the right onto the shoulder of the road, but continued north without knowing about the accident.

Gordon Zuidmulder, Brown county sheriff, and Frank Janssen, county traffic officer, were in Madison this weekend, checking the circumstances.

Sheriff Zuidmulder said that the car was damaged about $1,500 and the truck, driven by Clayton Lehman, of Escanaba, about $5,000.

Services for Nelson were held Tuesday at the Granstad Funeral home, Center City, Minn.

Marquette Prison Gardens Will Be Dedicated July 25

MARQUETTE—The Marquette prison gardens—a beauty spot inspected by many thousands of tourists and other visitors every year—will be opened to the public for a special event Wednesday afternoon, July 25, when a bronze plaque, erected in tribute to the memory of the late Warden and Mrs. James P. Corgan, will be unvealed.

The plaque, placed this week on a flagstone monument erected at the exit end of the sunken garden, was presented by the Marquette Lions club, of which Warden Corgan was a charter member. Dedication and unveiling of the monument and plaque are sponsored by the Lions club and a special Lions committee is being assisted by Emery E. Jacques, warden of the prison, in arranging the program, which marks the silver anniversary of the beginning of the development of the gardens.

Union Painters' Wage Raised To $1.80 Per Hour

Effective July 23, union painters' wages will be increased from $1.60 to $1.80 per hour, it was announced at last night's meeting of Escanaba Local No. 811, Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America.

Approval of the 20-cent wage increase was recently received from the construction industry stabilization commission, Ed Olson, recording secretary, Painters Local No. 811, stated.

The union had applied for the increase to go into effect last March 1.

Rock Youth's Career:

Wanted To Be Teacher, Became Air Pilot And Union Official Instead

A former Rock young man, Clarence N. Sayen, who was interested in flying but wanted to be a teacher, was elected president of the AFL Air Line Pilots association by its board of directors in Chicago on Tuesday.

But when he will assume the top job duties is uncertain, however.

Early Tuesday, the union directors voted to oust the veteran president, David L. Behncke, founder and president of the union for 20 years. In his place they elected Sayen, who recently had been discharged as ALPA vice president by Behncke in an inner-union feud.

Behncke Back "In"

By last night however, Behncke was back at the helm of the fliers' union, at least temporarily. A federal master of chancery arranged a truce whereby Behncke's ouster will be held in abeyance until a federal court determines whether the director's action against him was legal. The case landed in the court after Behncke's supporters filed a suit late yesterday seeking to declare the election illegal.

Victor E. LaRue, appointed by Federal Judge Michael Igoe as special master in chancery to hear the case, continued the hearing until July 24 to give the directors time to answer. Meanwhile both sides have agreed to stop all action in the dispute until Judge Igoe renders a decision.

Mother Lives In Rock

Sayen, now 32, is the son of Mrs. Pauline Sayen of Rock and Louis Sayen of Madison, Wis. He also has a brother, Arnold, living in Rock.

He played football and basketball while attending Rock high school, from which he was graduated in 1936. He went to the Northern Michigan College of Education, where he majored in education and geography and was graduated with a master's degree in 1941.

About the start of World War II, he took an aviation course at Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, and was assigned to St. Paul as a naval flying instructor. Later he served in a similar capacity at Chicago.

Joined Braniff After War

Receiving his honorable discharge from the Naval Air Force in 1945, Sayen took a co-pilot's job with Braniff Airlines at Dallas, Texas.

While with Braniff Airlines, he took postgraduate work at Southern Methodist college, where he received his master's degree in education. He also became active in the affairs of the ALPA, regarded as the union with the highest paid workers in the country.

Sayen resigned as pilot with Braniff in 1949 to assume the duties of executive vice president of ALPA in its Chicago headquarters in 1949.

Mrs. Sayen is the former Marge Alvord of Marquette. The Sayens have a small daughter, Cynthia.

The ALPA president's salary is $15,000 a year.

Behncke, 54, a former Cambria, Wis., farm boy, was one of the first air line pilots in the country, and one of the first three to fly the Chicago-Milwaukee-Minneapolis air mail route. He recently led the ALPA through its strike against United Air Lines.

State To Build Bridge At Seney

Will Receive Bids Until July 31

Bids for the construction of a relocated bridge on M-28 over Creighton creek, 15 ½ miles west of Seney, will be received by the state highway department in Escanaba until 11 a. m. Tuesday, July 31, (EST).

Completion date is scheduled for June 15, 1952.

The project will consist of construction of a reinforced concrete and steel bridge, 0.109 miles of approach grading, and additional work.

The substructure will consist of two reinforced concrete cantilever type abutments, 15 feet and ⅝ inch high. The superstructure will consist of one 55-foot rolled beam span, supported with reinforced concrete slab, with 38 feet of clear roadway and two 1½ foot safety curbs.

Used Automobile Dealers Warned

Buyers Advised To Check Prices

Because of repeated violations of ceiling price regulations on used car sales, the Detroit Office of Price Stabilization has issued a warning to offending dealers, along with a request that purchasers check ceiling prices before they buy.

John J. Frank, OPS district enforcement director, explained how automobile buyers can protect themselves against price violations.

Maximum prices which may be charged for used cars are listed in the used car guides, January 1951 issue, which every dealer is required to use. A customer may check the dealer's guide to make sure he is being charged a fair price

In buying a new car, a customer can determine the fair price by consulting the manufacturer's price list.

As a further protection on any automobile purchase, the buyer should demand an itemized statement of the sale, showing prices for services and optional equipment and the allowance for a trade-in, if any, Frank said. OPS regulations require that the value of the used car, as set forth in the approved used car guides.

Every used car dealer is required to file with the Detroit District OPS office the name of the used car guide which he was using during the base period, Dec. 19, 1950, to Jan. 25, 1951. In the event that he was not using one of the guides listed in the regulation, he must select one of them and notify OPS of his choice.

Timber Demand Revives Beaver Island Logging

The 100,000 feet of birch, maple and hemlock logs, delivered to Escanaba by a Roen company barge from Beaver Island, was the first log shipment made by boat to this port, according to Joseph B. McNamee of St. James, president of the Insula corporation, which began last winter the logging off of islands in the Beaver-Manitou group in Lake Michigan.

Veneer logs were consigned to the Birds Eye Veneer company of Escanaba and the Northwestern Veneer & Plywood corporation of Gladstone. Hemlock and No 2 hardwood logs were sold to the Shepeck Dimension & Lumber company at Wells.

"Pilot Shipment"

The logs, which were unloaded at the old C&NW Merchants dock, are being scaled, graded and trucked to the three plants this week.

"This was a pilot shipment to determine whether it is feasible to harvest the hardwood and pulpwood timber on the islands and ship the logs to the mainland," McNamee said.

Insula corporation, organized a year ago to carry on operations in the Beavers, is going after the timber that former lumbermen considered to be inaccessible.

A century ago the Mormons established a colony on Beaver island, and cut posts, ties and other cedar products. Later, the Beaver Island Lumbering company began cutting the white pine and manufacturing it into lumber at its island sawmill, which was operated for 40 years until it closed down in 1917.

Since that time the only woodworking operation has been a plant engaged in the production of hardwood bolts for lawnmowers and croquet sets. This concern acquired an eight million feet timber stand on the island from the Antrim Iron company, which many years ago operated a charcoal iron furnace at Mancelona.

All together, the 67-mile square Beaver Island has about 25 million feet of merchantable timber, and pulpwood most of it located in isolated areas.

Was Winter's Cut

The 100,000 feet shipped to Escanaba last week represented last winter's cut near Lake Gennesaret, an isolated spot on Beaver island. About twenty men were employed by Insula corporation.

"This was no modern lumbering project," said McNamee. "We used primitive methods; skidding with horses and hauling the logs with sleighs to a high rollway at Cable's bay on the Lake Michigan shore. When the Roen barge came, we rolled the logs into the water and pulled several at a time to the boat, which had to anchor about 1,000 feet off shore."

Lake Gennesaret will be the logging operation site for the next two winters, McNamee said.

The summer logging program got under way in another section of Beaver island on May 15. McNamee expects to ship 200,000 feet to Escanaba next October.

Insula corporation has stumpage rights on 2,000,000 feet of timber on Beaver island, 250,000 feet on High island, 500,000 feet on Hog island, 500,000 feet on Garden island, from 500,000 to 1,000,000 feet on North Fox island. Within the next few years, Insula will attempt to take the pulpwood off Whiskey, Hat and Squaw islands.

Energetic 34-year-old McNamee is somewhat of a newcomer to the logging industry, although he long has been keenly interested in the business. His forebears were lumbermen. A native of Boyne City, McNamee is a graduate of Marquette university in Milwaukee. For a short time, he taught rhetoric at Jorden college in Menominee; then entered the automobile transport business in Detroit and also acquired a third-Interest in a 27-square mile ranch near Ruiosa, Texas.

Ranching Project Planned

Incidentally, McNamee plans to introduce ranching on Beaver island to supplement the logging operations. He will try raising Hereford cattle, sheep and goats in the open spaces. He also has some horse ranching plans.

"Within a month we're going to take from 12 to 15 horses to High island," McNamee said. "This is the island that the House of David used as a penal colony until 18 years ago. The religious cult raised some fine animals there, and it occurred to some of the islanders it would be a good place for our horse ranching project."

Treasurer of the Insula corporation is John L. Florenski, trucking operator of Boyne City.

Transportation Bottleneck

Transporation problems still intrigue McNamee, and this is probably why he displays so much enthusiasm when he discusses the Beaver Island project.

"We have one bottleneck—it's transportation," said McNamee.

McNamee apparently induced John Roen, shipyard and barge operator of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., to equip his 210-foot former LST ship into the only log carrier on the Great Lakes. On the boat is a large mobile crane for loading and unloading the logs.

The 80-mile water haul of 100,000 feet of logs from Beaver Island to Escanaba cost $2,000, or $20 per thousand. The 10-foot draft barge, however, was only half-loaded, and McNamee hopes to be able to charter the craft and double the cargo so that the freight rate can be leveled off to about $8 per thousand, about equivalent to the railroad tariff for an 80-mile haul.

Loggers are going to the islands and other remote areas for veneer logs because of the increased demand for yellow birch, McNamee explains. Some years ago, this birch species was passed up because of the popularity of birdseye and figured woods.

Yellow birch commands a price of about $175 per thousand, but would probably reach $200 if it were not for Canadian competition, according to McNamee. White birch and hard maple veneers sell for $100 per M; elm, $65; and beech, $65 delivered to the mill.

The yellow birch grows best in what McNamee called a "high swamp" area, which holds a plentiful supply of water to nourish the tree but is not extremely wet swampland.

McNamee will do selective cutting on the islands, he said. He estimates Insula will harvest about 25,000,000 feet of logs and pulpwood within the next two years.

NPA Changes Application

New Form Needed For Construction

William T. Hunt, district manager, U. S. Department of Commerce, National Production Authority, announced today that all applicants for permission to commence construction must use a new application form.

The new form is CMP-4C , a Controlled Materials Plan form that will serve both as a construction application and as an application for allotment of steel, copper and aluminum on types of construction for which allotments will be made.

It completely replaces form NPAF-24, which has been in use since mid-February, when a system of authorization was instituted to control the use of scarce materials in construction. Persons having applications pending on form NPAF-24 are being notified to fill out the new form.

Department of Commerce field offices previously authorized to process construction applications were instructed to send all pending applications to Washington immediately for processing.

To be considered for a fourth-quarter allotment, Form CMP-4C must be received by the Washington office by July 20, Hunt said. Application forms and further information are available from the Department's field office at 1038 Federal Building, Detroit 26, Michigan.

John P. Jones Items Go To Naval Academy

ANNAPOLIS, Md.— (AP) —An extensive collection of items once owned by John Paul Jones now belongs to the U. S. Naval Academy. The relics have been on loan to the Academy for several years and exhibited in the Jones' crypt beneath the chapel and in the Academy museum.

The collection was formally presented to the Academy by Mrs. John L. Senior of Lenox, Mass. Her husband, lawyer and cement industry executive, had assembled the scores of relics as a hobby.

The collection includes the original commission of the country's first naval hero. Signed by John Hancock in 1776 and issued to Jones as "Captain in the Navy of the United States," the commission has been appraised at $50,000. Jones carried it with him when he boarded the captured British frigate Serapis from his sinking ship, the Bon Homme Richard.

City Launches Busy Street Paving Program Next Week

NEXT week the city street department will begin the paving of 32 blocks of residential streets, utilizing the new asphalt plant purchased by the city.

Curbs were laid on these streets last year and preliminary grading completed, preparatory to the final surfacing with bituminous asphalt. Curbs and grading of other streets are contemplated this summer with final surfacing scheduled for next year.

The city has made a considerable investment in its asphalt mixing plant and in securing anxiliary equipment required for a broad street paving program. The equipment will make possible the hard surfacing of all of the remaining dirt streets in the city within a comparatively few years. The availability of the asphalt paving facilities also should encourage the paving of residential alleys in the city.

During depression years the city launched an ambitious street paving project during which many blocks of streets were paved with concrete. Federal WPA money and low construction costs combined to provide concrete pavement at low rates to property owners.

Because of the current high cost of concrete construction the paving of city streets with concrete aggregate is beyond the reach of most property owners. The asphalt paving, however, will adequately serve the traffic requirements in the residential areas and permit a street improvement program of which the community can be proud.

This Is A Good Kind Of Swap!

THE "Dakota Farmer" recently ran a significant little editorial which said, "There is one kind of scrap people can mix into without fighting but without which this country cannot fight a war — scrap iron and steel.

"About half the load that goes into a steel blast furnace is pig iron, and half is sorted scrap. In peace time enough scrap finds its way back to the mills to maintain steel production. In war time, when far more steel is needed, scrap seems to be always scarce. That was the why of the 'farm scrap drive' in World War II. It is why farmers, in this present war, are asked to pile up scrap and get it to dealers.

"We think farmers will respond, as they did before. . ."

Farmers aren't being asked to give their scrap away. The idea is to take it into town and sell it to scrap dealers, or, in the case of heavy and bulky material, to call the dealer and arrange for transportation. Practically every farm in the country has accumulations of obsolete and worn-out machinery which is entirely worthless to the farmer. This may include broken tools, parts of tractors, trucks, cultivators and so on. It's junk on the farm—but in the form of scrap, it can help provide the vast flood of steel the country needs. The situation is urgent. Today, steel's appetite for scrap is pretty close to insatiable.

Reliability Of Spain's Army Is Questionable

U. S. military men long have been represented as wanting Spain drawn into the Western orbit for strategic reasons.

With the forbidding Pyrenees guarding its border, with wide stretches of flat plateau and plain, it is rated highly, both as a defensive bastion and a staging area, particularly for air operations.

But up to now, political factors have outweighed the military considerations. Spain's Premier Franco, a Fascist dictator, is bitterly disapproved by moderate and liberal elements who are in command of other Western European governments. Out of deference to their shaky position, the United States has not insisted on tighter ties with Franco.

Franco's friends in Congress, deplore this situation. They argue that a valuable potential ally against communism is in effect being snubbed.

The contention is that not only Spain's geography but its 500,000-man army ought to be thrown into the balance on the Western side.

Probably no one will deny the strategic worth of Spain's geographical features. But new evidence coming to light in recent months suggests that Franco's army might prove a very doubtful advantage.

First Lean Dennen, NEA correspondent in Europe, and now C. L. Sulzberger of the New York Times, reported that a widespread movement against the Franco regime is developing in Spain.

According to their accounts, numerous Spanish generals are cooperating with this movement. It is said to be headed by a General Aranda, a now inactive commander who once was a Franco military hero for his exploits in the Spanish civil war.

Irving Brown, an A. F. of L. representative in Europe, sent a confidential report to his Washington headquarters on the anti-Franco activity.

It was his judgment that the Spanish army is not united. The anti-Franco generals command large areas of Spain, and raise serious doubts about Franco's ability to control those sectors if a showdown should come.

Adds Brown in his report:

"In the event of war, the people of Spain will not support Franco and will use any arms they can get, including the arms the Soviet Union may parachute to them, against Franco. In other words Franco is not even a good military asset, let alone a political one."

Certainly Brown's report is not the final word on the political and military condition of Spain. But it fits in with earlier reports. And there is no question that a broad anti-Franco movement embracing elements of the army is a reality.

This does not mean that U. S. military thinkers must abandon the idea that Spain may have a useful role in the Western defense scheme. But it does indicate that there ought to be a careful revaluing of Spain's potentialities in the light of 1951 facts.

Motorists Are Still Trusting To Luck

SEVERAL weeks ago four persons, including Escanaba's chief of police, his wife and the son of Escanaba's director of public safety, were killed in an automobile accident enroute to St. Ignace to board a ferry to the Lower Peninsula.

The tragedy, involving as it did persons closely connected with the educational campaign to reduce traffic casualties, should have served as a grim warning to other motorists to use extreme caution on the highways. Undoubtedly that tragedy did have an effect upon many motorists.

The other day, however, on a casual motor trip to Munising, we saw several motorists disregarding the rules of caution. One car nonchalantly zipped around curves on the left lane, passed cars on hills and otherwise drove with recklessness. Fortunately he won the gamble. There were no oncoming cars.

Every day drivers—far too many of them—continue to flaunt the rules of careful motoring. They take chances with their lives and the lives of others on the highways. Some day the law of chance will catch up with them. Even the luckiest gamblers cannot win all of the time.

The accident that resulted in the death of four persons also proved again the need for a bridge across the Straits of Mackinac. Many motorists who are normally careful drivers drive too fast or take chances in an effort to meet the timetable of the Straits ferries. That is true for traffic on both sides of the Straits and it undoubtedly is a factor in many accidents.

A bridge across the Straits would eliminate this hazard because there would be no need for unusual speed or chance-taking to meet a timetable.

BAIER ON ST. LAWRENCE
(Sault Ste. Marie News)

Prof. Louis A. Baier, naval architect and marine engineer, thinks the St. Lawrence seaway plan is economically unjustifiable and unrealistic in terms of modern shipping. He is the same Prof. Baier who has opposed building a bridge at the Straits of Mackinac.

Some day the St. Lawrence Seaway and Power Project will be constructed. The economics undoubtedly are being studied by practical men and the proponents have been strengthened by the increasing demand for steel. The desire to retain the steel industry of the Middle West in the Great Lakes area is an important consideration in the timeliness angle. The steel mills around the Great Lakes are said to represent over 70 per cent of American capacity. They need foreign ore as well as ore from Minnesota and Michigan in order to conserve our resources. It is cheaper to deliver South American ore via the St. Lawrence Seaway to steel mills on Lake Erie than by a rail haul from East coast ports.

The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence association in Washington, D. C., has figures that sound convincing that the seaway is a good financial investment. Prof. Baier has seen his objections to a Straits bridge refuted by eminent engineers who have reported it to be feasible both from an engineering and financial standpoint. It is possible that Baier can also be wrong about the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Time Shortage

By Gordon Martin

MARTIN

If in all the summer's glory you could think of any crime, it would be the fact you cannot keep from running out of time. There's so much to do around the house, you're always on the run, and you slave away till darkness comes to chase away the sun. Though you labor on and on and think you'll very likely drop, it's the clock and not your weariness that always makes you stop.

Fighting homeward through the traffic, dashing in to change your clothes, mixing up some spray to stop the bugs that chew upon a rose; spading up another garden patch, and trimming up some trees, cutting grass and digging out some weeds that always make you sneeze; getting orders from your wife to quickly do the things she bids, take the car and get a loaf of bread and then pick up the kids.

Painting shutters, laying flagstone, giving water to some plants, moving dirt and pruning thickets and the thorns that tear your pants. But there's still a million things to do when comes the graying night, and you haven't gained a bit of ground to solve your endless plight. And you know that if the summer can be guilty of a crime, it would be the simple fact that you are always out of time.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Here are some backstage highlights of the Korean truce talks; though North Korean General Nam Il is spokesman for the Communists, Chinese delegate General Tung Hau really pulls the strings. General Nam speaks out, is serious, pleasant, doesn't look round for cues from colleagues. However, when he makes a mistake, Chinese General Tung Hau interrupts and the North Korean goes into reverse. . . Once General Nam refused to reconsider admitting U. N. newsmen, whereupon Tung Hau pulled a piece of paper from his pocket, read a few curt phrases. General Nam toned down. . . Communist negotiators keep asking for recesses. After two hours of conferring, they ask for a two-hour rest. It's not clear whether they use this time to radio for instructions or for private huddling.

Even during the showdown over newsmen there was remarkable agreement on basic issues. . . Most important, the Communists agreed upon the vital point of having the armistice supervised by inspection teams. Those observing Communist tactics through the years never dreamed they would consent to this. Inspection of any Communist territory has never before been permitted. . . Gimmick in the acceptance may be the Communists' argument over "observer" or "inspection" teams. They wanted the former. . . When Commies haggled over where the buffer zone should be located, General Ridgway reported to Washington that he won't pull back from his present position north of the 38th parallel—except to straighten out a bulge in his line. . . Unlike the MacArthur days, excellent relations prevail between Ridgway and the state department. The diplomats regard Ridgway as a level-headed negotiator, even cabled him that he could demand the total withdrawal of all Red troops from Kaesong before he resumed talks. The state department also cabled Ridgway they had complete confidence in him.

There's an obvious difference between Peiping and Moscow re Korea, with the Kremlin more anxious for peace than the Chinese. After Malik put out his first peace feeler, the Peiping radio was silent for four days, then talked guardedly. . . Deputy Foreign Minister Gromyko in Moscow was unusually frank with U. S. Ambassador Kirk, talked only of military terms, not political. The Chinese radio, however, immediately began injecting politics—such as Formosa and a seat in the U. N. . . General Ridgway is now in an impregnable position if the Chinese counter-attack. Should there be a long wait with a heavy build-up of Chinese air power, his position would not be good.

ST. LAWRENCE SEAWAY

The long, bitter battle for the St. Lawrence seaway got an unexpected backstage boost the other day from Ohio's portly Congressman Clarence Brown, a friend of Taft's and a power among House Republicans.

Though Brown may help turn the tide in favor of this important project, he made no bones about his motives. He passed out word among Republicans that Republic Steel was interested in the St. Lawrence seaway because it would reduce transportation costs for its Labrador iron ore. Brown also whispered that the GOP owed a political debt to Republic Steel, because of Republic's big campaign contributions.

As a result of Brown's wire pulling, the House public works committee delayed a final vote on the St. Lawrence seaway behind closed doors. Reason for the delay was to wait until Congressmen Tom Pickett of Texas and Robert Secrest of Ohio, both opponents of the seaway, could be shifted away from the public works committee.

Take My Word For It . . .

Frank Colby Jr.

HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL ENGLISH

I have been corrected by my high school daughter for saying, "I am very disgusted." She says that I must say, "I am very MUCH disgusted." Why?—S. L. T.

Answer: Well, the grammar books all say so. Why? That's something else.

Let's mull through a few grammars and see what we find:

"A past participle that has not yet become an adjective should not be preceded by 'very' or 'too,' but by an adverb like 'much, greatly, deeply,' etc. A past participle that has become an adjective may be preceded by 'very' or 'too.'

"Wrong: I am very disgusted.

"Right: I am very much disgusted.

"Right: I am too disgusted to talk."

That's clear; I can't say "very disgusted," but it's all right to say "too disgusted," for the book just told me not to use "very"

Now all we have to do is to decide when a participle has become an adjective. First, what is a participle? A good grammar should help: "A participle is a word derived from a verb and partaking of the properties of a verb and an adjective or noun; a verbal adjective or verbal noun." A participle an adjective? But it can't be.

Oh, well. What's an adverb? "An adverb is a word which modifies a verb, adjective, or another adverb."

But I just looked up "very," and it is an adverb meaning "exceedingly; quite." Then if I may properly say "exceedingly disgusted," why not "very disgusted?" I'm puzzled . . . uh, very puzzled . . . very MUCH puzzled!

It seems to me that this is another case splitting hairs with a VERY dull blade. Even my erudite assistant, old Doc S. flounders when I try to pin him down on just why I must not say "very disgusted, very pleased, very troubled."

Of course, if you prefer to say "very much pleased," etc., you have not only my blessing, but the blessing of every grammarian in Christendom. But if sometimes you slip and say "very disgusted, very pleased," there is no logical reason why you should be censored so far as I have been able to ascertain. I'm sure it won't bar you from Heaven.

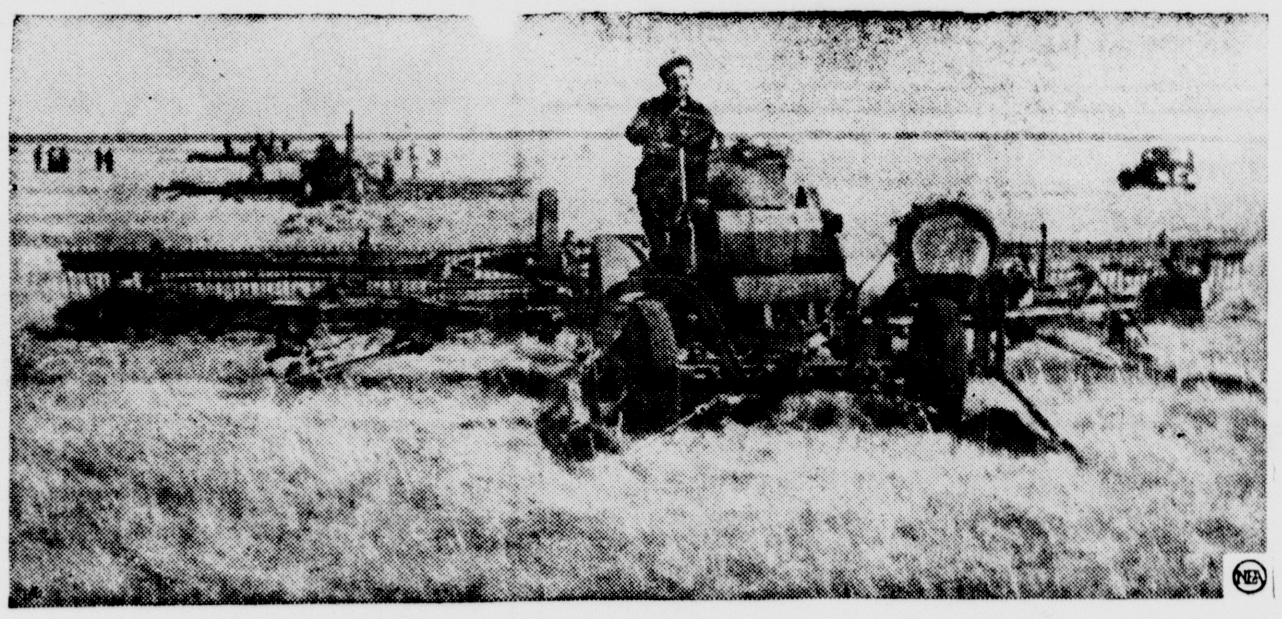
Economic Crisis Grips Russian Satellites; Many Face Hunger



MECHANIZED HARVEST IN RUSSIA: The Kremlin hit a snag in its plan for agricultural factories.

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

FRANKFURT, Germany—Soviet Russia's satellite countries are in the grip of a severe economic crisis unequalled since the immediate post-war period of 1945, delegates to the International Socialist Congress which just concluded its sessions in Frankfurt report.

From the Baltic to the Black Sea, millions live in a state of total or semi-hunger. Hunger strikes and new acts of sabotage and partisan warfare are reported to be on the increase in all the satellite countries, especially in the Soviet-annexed Baltic states of Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania.

The economic collapse and the new wave of restlessness behind the Iron Curtain are believed to be one of the reasons why Moscow decided to seek a truce in Korea.

The latest economic breakdown behind the Iron Curtain is due in part to the complete failure of the various Russian-sponsored and M.V.D.-directed five-year economic plans. But in a large measure it is attributable to the war in Korea.

To keep the North Korean and Chinese Reds supplied, Moscow imposed severe economic strains on its satellites.

"Even Czechoslovakia, which was once the most industrialized country in Central Europe, has been bled white by Russia since the outbreak of the Korean war," the Czech delegate to the Socialist Congress told me.

Two months ago Czechoslovakia was late with machinery deliveries to Russia, he said. Moscow immediately embargoed shipments of food grain to Prague. At the same time, the Cominform demanded a widespread purge of Communist and non-Communist officials responsible for such "Titoist" and "nationalist treason."

Representatives of Poland, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria and the Baltic States also reported that the Kremlin hit a snag in its efforts to turn the collective farms into agricultural factories (agrotowns).

In Soviet Russia, as well as in the satellite countries, the Politburo has recently been carrying on a campaign for the "mechanization of agriculture."

Collective farms were to be amalgamated into larger units equivalent to towns and peasants turned into a "rural proletariat" under the complete domination of the M.V.D. (Secret Police). This would have given the Kremlin greater control over the peasantry. It would also have set free surplus farm labor for work in the armament industry.

From Poland to Albania the peasants—frequently resorting to armed violence — resisted Moscow's latest attempt to enslave them. So strong was this resistance that Red chiefs were forced to relax their campaign to "proletarianize" the peasants. According to some reports it may be dropped altogether.

Apparently in an effort to find scapegoats for the food scarcity and the general economic crisis behind the Iron Curtain, the M.V.D has instituted a new purge of Communist members and officials. More than two million Communists have already been purged in the satellite states alone.

The situation in the little Soviet-dominated state of Estonia is typical.

"All Communists and their followers who in June, 1940, formed the so-called Communist transition government in Estonia have since lost their liberty," Johannes Mikhelson, prominent Estonian leader and delegate to the Congress, told me.

"The majority of them have been sent to slave labor camps," he said. "Likewise, all secretaries of the Central Committee of the Estonia Communist Party and all trade union secretaries who served the Russians beginning with 1940 have disappeared from public life."

Soviet Estonia is today a perfect example of the fate in store for native Communists the moment Moscow succeeds in consolidating power and realizes its policy of complete Russification, Mikhelson said.

Meanwhile, delegates from 27 countries behind and this side of the Iron Curtain, including the U. S., organized in Frankfort a Socialist International for the primary purpose of combatting Communism.

For the first time in the history of international socialism, the representatives of the 27 countries virtually repudiated Marx and the "Marxist dogma."

Quoting Abraham Lincoln to the effect that "Democracy is government of the people, by the people and for the people," the Socialist Congress adopted a declaration of principles which closely resembles the United States Declaration of Independence.

African Safari With Bob Ruark

By ROBERT C. RUARK

IKOMA-ON-THE-GRUMMETTI, TANGANYIKA — Home is the hunter, finally, to his first permanent camp, 18 miles outside Ikoma, a native village of about 500 folks. A pretty little river, the Grummetti, which seems to be overcrowded with leopards, winds past the front door.

There are marshes full of buffalo and plains full of antelope and mosquito nets full of me and the mosquitoes, but it's home and it's pretty and we love it.

Home is composed of sleeping tents for mama, me, Harry Selby, the boss of this voortrek, and for the permanent staff of 12 native boys. There is an eating tent, and a little-girl's-room tent, and a small cooking tent for when it rains.

Home includes Jessica, the jeep, and Annie Lorry, the truck. Harry, Mama, and I ride in the front seat of Jessica. Kidago and Adam, the gunbearers, and Chaboni, the carboy, ride in the back seat with the guns and cameras and such truck. Everybody else rides on top of Annie Lorry when she is loaded with the tents and food boxes and incidental equipment.

RAINS AND HIGH GRASS

Selby, the only other white man on the trip, thinks like an animal, when he is not thinking like a machine. The grass is very high in most of this neck of the woods, because of excessive rains. Game generally hates high grass. It provides cover for predators and is distasteful. So the animals travel in huge herds, constantly, in search of low grass and water.

Here around the Grummetfti the grass never grows very high. It is a little pocket that turns out to be leaping with animal life. You look around the plains and a sweep of the eye shows tens of thousands of grazing beasts—eland, kongoni, Grant's gazelle, zebra, wildebeeste, giraffe, impala, topi. In the marshy lowlands there are waterbuck and reedbuck and rhino and buffalo and cheetah and there must be lions on the slopes. Carnivora follow the game migrations, and there is plenty of lion evidence as well as a profusion of scavengers like hyena and jackal, which follow the lion kills. Just looking around you is a mighty thrill, for we are fortunate in choosing a spot that presents Africa as it might have been 200 years ago. And at a time when game is skimpy elsewhere.

NIGHTS ARE COLD

The nights are almost bitter cold, and the sight of that campfire with Juma, the headboy, bustling around the drink tray, is the finest piece of scenery we have yet viewed. We hunt a radius of 60 miles around the permanent camp in the jeep, and after a hot, dusty day, a not-unpleasing vista is Kaluku and Gatheru, our "personal" boys, struggling into the bath annex with canvas tubs full of steaming water from Bwana and Memsaab. They also wash each article of clothing immediately after it is dropped, and wake you gently with a cup of chai, or tea, in the early morn.

We are eating mighty high on the hog. We are blessed with Ali, the wizened little cook, who is very possibly the best chef in Africa. Ali cooks over open fires. First night in camp we dined off Tommy-ram steaks, a delicious meat that bears no trace of game taste. As the piece de resistance Ali had whomped up crepe suzettes. And this in a spot where you can't talk socially over the animal noises, where a pride of five lions visit us nightly, and where the leopards cough 40 yards from your tent.

Mama has taken on the chores of shooting meat for the camp. As the shotgun expert I am now gazing fondly at an endless reservoir of grouse, guinea fowl, bustard and a spur fowl, which is all white meat even to the legs.

All things considered, I reckon I am as happy as a man can be in this day and age. I know a little how Adam must have felt in the Garden of Eden, before the snake fouled up the detail. But I am one or two up on Adam, because he didn't have Ali cooking for him, nor Kaluku to fetch him his bath.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Drillers have reached a depth of 525 feet on the city's second well at North Twenty-First street and First Avenue, Sidney Shank, water department superintendent, said yesterday and are awaiting the arrival of a pump to begin testing flows.

Gladstone—Annual school election is canvassed by the board. The canvassers found that 56 voters cast ballots re-electing Archie D. Harris to the board for a three-year term.

Manistique—Archie E. Cameron, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cameron, Blaney Park, has accepted a position as bookkeeper with the Oil Management company of St. Louis, Mich., it has been learned. He was graduated this spring from Ferris Institute with a bachelor of science degree.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba— Escanaba's second market day will be held at Ludington and North ninth streets today. Marketmaster Carl Anderson is expecting a good selection of greens and seasonal produce for the selection of shoppers.

Gladstone—A strong batting attack, coupled with five errors on the part of their opponents, gave the Reporters an easy victory over the Marble Arms crew, Thursday evening. The score was 12 to 2. Batteries: Walker and Ackley; Pelky and Neveau.

Questions and Answers

Q—In how many states of the Union is salt found?

A—In 19 states and it is produced in commercial quantities in 14. Michigan ranks first in domestic production; New York second.

* * *

Q—Is the snakeroot herb poisonous?

A—Yes. This perennial herb time and again has decimated whole communities with epidemics of "milk sickness." Only a few mouthfuls of the plant's leaves may be enough to sicken a cow and make its milk deadly poison to susceptible humans.

Snuff Champion Does Not Spit

Retired Farmer, 82, Dips For 72 Years

BEN WHEELER, Tex. — (AP)— The champion snuff dipper of Van Zandt county never spits.

That's quite a mark to aim at, admits 82-year-old Elbert Weaver, retired farmer in this little northeast Texas town.

Weaver has been dipping snuff for 72 years. Started when he was a 10-year-old lad in Alabama

He has proof he dips without spitting. Once he spent 14 hours on a bus. Took a fresh dip of snuff every five minutes. Never spit once.

Local observers said this outdoes the best dippers in adjacent (and rival) Henderson county by a good four hours.

Weaver figures he takes a fresh dip about 144 times a day. He does a lot of his figuring while just sitting in town on Saturday evenings. Been dippling snuff and talking, while sitting in Ben Wheeler, for 3,000 Saturday evenings.

He estimates that in his 72-year dipping career he has spent $1,650 for snuff. Only $750 for hair cuts.

Among those Weaver has outlived are several doctors who proclaimed against the use of snuff. Weaver himself won't credit snuff for his longevity. But it's evident snuff hasn't put him in an early grave.

Weaver lives alone and has just enough money for food, clothes and snuff. He quit farming eight years ago, after 50 years of it.

Liquor Sales Down But Inventory Is Up

LANSING—(AP)—Sales by Michigan's liquor monopoly were 15.55 per cent lower in June than a year ago, but the state's inventory was 38.79 per cent higher.

Sales of all types of intoxicants fell, the liquor control commission reported, while its inventory was boosted in three categories.

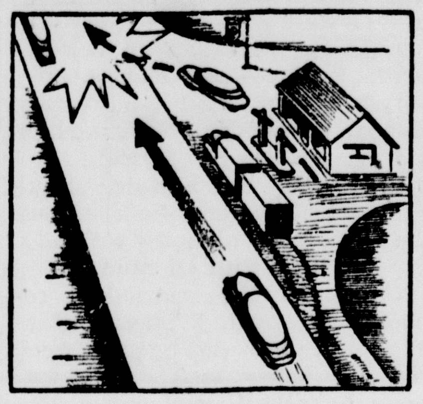
The commission said whisky sales were down 8.62 per cent but the inventory was up 77.95 per cent. Gin sales were off 18.31 per cent while that inventory rose 20.05 per cent. Brandy sales dropped 1.97 per cent while that inventory climbed 2.36 per cent.

Rum sales were off 16.84 per cent for the year and that inventory was down 21.57 per cent. Cordials dropped 1.55 per cent on the sales side and 0.39 per cent on the stock side.

Wine sales were off 35.19 per cent, while that inventory was down 17.75 per cent.

Unwritten Laws Of The Road

No. 6: Slow Down For Roadside Businesses.



So-called higher speeds are safe only when the edge of the highway is insulated so that no other vehicle can get onto it. Trouble may develop at any point where there is a break in this insulation. Especially dangerous gaps are the areas in front of filling stations, vegetable stands, hot dog stands, eating establishments, drive-in theaters, and other business buildings. These draw customers who, in either parking or entering, must use driveway entrances which are frequently made blind by parked trucks.

Professional drivers pull their speed down if there is even one vehicle or pedestrian in sight.

REDUCES WITH RENNEL GLAD TO BE ALIVE

"Before using Rennel Concentrate I was always tired and out of breath. I couldn't even walk up the steps in our home because I was overweight," writes Mrs. J. Rauchman Sr., 9233 Herkimer, Detroit 17, Mich. Now since using your wonderful product, Rennel Concentrate, I lost 32 pounds and can walk blocks to and from anywhere. I am glad I am alive and feel I have not only lost pounds but gained many years. I shall use Rennel as long as I think I need it."

Thousands of others have overcome the social and physical discomfort of being overweight with this effective home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Insist on Rennel.

Girl Located In Rabies Case

Search Conducted All Over Peninsula

The Upper Peninsula-wide search for Lynn Orr, young girl believed to have had contact with a rabies-afflicted cat at a YWCA camp at Hale, near Alpena, ended at Wakefield this noon.

State police located the girl with a party touring the western part of the Upper Peninsula, and informed her of the situation. She was taken to a physician for preventive treatment.

Details of the case are meager. The girl recently attended Camp Maqua, maintained by the Bay City YWCA district. Several girls were reported to have been either bitten or scratched by a cat, which later was found to have rabies. Miss Orr was one of the group.

Discovery of the rabies case was not made until after the Orr girl had left the camp on a sight-seeing trip through the Upper Peninsula. She was located only two days before the deadline for effective treatment of rabies.

Lynn, who was traveling with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Burbin of Standish, Mich., told state police she had handled the cat while at the camp. Three other girls, who had played with it, were given medical treatment last Sunday.

Soviets Still Have Trouble Absorbing The Baltic States

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Intelligence reports to the state department indicate that Russia after more than a decade of occupation is still having trouble in absorbing the Baltic states.

These are Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania, which the Soviet Union swallowed up in wartime 1940.

The reports were rounded up in an "intelligence summary" today by the "Voice of America," state department overseas radio. They included:

Estonia—The Soviet regime is having difficulty finding native Estonians to fill key positions or to act as local Communist leaders.

Latvia—Reports 'smuggled out" say the Soviet government is deporting large numbers of agricultural specialists to the region of Barnaul in Western Siberia.

Lithuania — Recent rioting at Vlina, the capital, was said to have resulted in 40 Lithuanian workers dead or injured and a number of Soviet police wounded. It started when orders were given for longer hours to produce more Soviet army shoes, without pay increases.

Refugees also said widespread poverty, food shortages, and active anti-Soviet resistance is present at Kaunas and elsewhere in Lithuania.

Shimmy Girl Of Past, Gilda Gray Thinks She Can Come Back

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Gilda Gray, shimmy-shaking star of the Ziegfeld Follies in the torrid twenties, is talking to a movie producer about a picture of her life.

"I want to make some more money," Miss Gray told reporters. "I'm 48 but I still weigh only 122. I'm making plans for a 10-weeks night club tour of the Pacific Northwest."

Miss Gray, dogged by illness, spent four years on a Colorado ranch, and says she feels fine now.

"The public wants action today—and action I can give them," she said.

Comparing the roaring '20's with the '50's, she said: "They roar more today, but I think we had more fun."

Thames Taxi Fleet Balks At Cheesecake

LONDON—(AP) — The blushing boatmen of the Thames taxi fleet voted to resume work today after a 24-hour strike against too much cheesecake.

A leader of the 250 strikers told newsmen, "if the employers don't do something about our grievances, we'll go out again."

One of the grievances is that the boatmen have been seeing far too much of women.

It makes them blush, they say, to have to load female passengers in such a way their skirts hike up around their panties. What's more it takes their mind off their work.

No Combat Deaths In Korea Yesterday

WASHINGTON — (AP)—No U. S. soldier was killed in Korea in the 24 hours ending at 5 p. m. Korean time yesterday—the first day without a combat death since the first American was killed July 7, 1950.

Announcing this yesterday, the Army said a small number of soldiers were wounded. Combat deaths by direct enemy action have averaged more than 30 daily during the first year of fighting in Korea.

Mrs. Westlund Dies At Hospital

Funeral Rites Will Be Held Saturday

Mrs. Iver (Carrie) Westlund, 68, of 1019 Stephenson avenue, died at 12:10 this afternoon at St. Francis hospital, where she was taken yesterday suffering from a heart ailment.

She had lived in Escanaba the past 50 years. She was active in Bethany Lutheran church and was a member of the Ladies' Aid society and the Woman's Missionary society. She also was affiliated with the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

She was born in Varmland Sweden, October 19, 1882, and came directly to Escanaba from Sweden in 1901.

Surviving are her husband, one son, Clifford, and a daughter, Mrs. Theodore Hedberg, both of Bridgeport, Conn., four grandchildren, and two sisters, Mrs. Lambert C. Peterson of Escanaba and Mrs. Oscar Wickman of Sweden.

Funeral services will be held at the Anderson funeral home at 2 Saturday afternoon. Burial will be in Lakeview cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home beginning Friday afternoon.

One Main Issue Not Yet Settled In Korean Talks

men reported heavy enemy traffic on arteries leading to the front. They bombed railyards, supply areas and highways. Ground action was extremely light.

Propaganda Stepped Up

In Washington, U. S. diplomats looked for a new move in the current Russian "peace offensive" which began with an off-handed suggestion a Korean armistice could be worked out. The second move was the publication of a new English language magazine in Moscow and other "peace propaganda" efforts aimed at lulling "free nations to sleep" the U. S. state department said.

Washington foresaw the possibility of a Russian proposal for a big four meeting including Red China, to settle Far Eastern yuestions as a logical follow-up on any Korean cease-fire agreement.

British government officials in London took a dim view of Russia's new English language periodical. They said its reference to "traditional Russian - British friendship" was part of a cooly calculated move to wean Britain from the North Atlantic treaty and split the Anglo-American alliance.

West Virginia Keeps Solidly Democratic; Grandmother Elected

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. — (AP) — Southern West Virginia has returned a Democrat to Congress, keeping the state's representation in Washington solidly Democratic.

Mrs. Maude Elizabeth Kee, widow of Rep. John Kee, yesterday was elected by a three-to-two vote to fill out his unexpired term. Kee, serving his tenth term in Congress, died in office last May 8.

Mrs. Kee polled 30,339 votes to 21,648 for Republican Cyrus H. Gadd, 49-year-old Princeton attorney, in 377 of the district's 394 polling places.

However, Republicans found consolation in the margin of her victory. Her husband usually polled a two-to-one majority in the predominantly Democratic fifth district. Both Kee and his widow had the backing of the United Mine Workers, powerful in this area.

In new congresswomen is 56 and has three grandchildren.

Old Age Assistance Load Still Dropping

LANSING — (AP)—For the 10th consecutive month, old age assistance rolls in Michigan have slumped.

State Welfare Director W. J. Maxey reported the monthly case total was 95,722, a drop of 584 since the preceding month.

Maxey said the case load has fallen from a peak of 101,000 in September, dropping 300 to 600 cases a month.

"This results," he said, "from the federal government's liberalization of old age survivors insurance last September."

Direct relief in Michigan declined 2,355 cases to a total of 23,111 last month, Maxey said.

Manslaughter Charge Planned

Swanson And Wife In County Jail

Arthur Swanson, 48, of Cornell, will be charged with manslaughter as a result of a scuffle which resulted in the death of Clifford South at the South general store in Cornell Monday night, it has been reported by Sheriff William Miron.

Swanson was arraigned in justice court this morning on a charge of drunk driving, second offense, and entered a plea of not guilty. He was remanded to the county jail when he failed to provide a bond of $500.

His wife, Mrs. Signe Swanson, also is held in the county jail on a charge of drunk driving. She was arrested by Escanaba police Tuesday night following an accident on Stephenson avenue. Mrs. Swanson's car struck a parked car owned by Frederick Cass, 211 S. 11th street. The Cass car, in turn, struck another parked car owned by Albert Vincent, Rte. 2, Stephenson.

In the scuffle with Swanson Monday night, South suffered a heart attack and died enroute to St. Francis hospital in Escanaba.

Hospital Attendants Held For Brutality In Death Of Patient

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga. — (AP)—Three attendants at the State hospital for the insane were convicted of involuntary manslaughter last night after testimony that revolting brutality led to the death of a 23-year-old patient.

A superior court jury recommended that the attendants be punished as for a misdemeanor. Judge George S. Carpenter said he would pronounce sentence today.

The three attendants, C. W. Beckum, Alton Lincoln and J. A. Huff, were tried jointly for the death of Lloyd Hooks, whose body was found March 1 in a hospital bathroom with a handkerchief stuffed in his throat.

A state witness testified that on the day Hooks died he saw the three attendants force the inmate to lick vomit from the floor and then forced him to eat a soiled handkerchief. The witness also testified that he saw the attendants beat and curse Hooks for four days prior to his death.

Hooks had been committed to a building for the criminally insane at the hospital after a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Florida Boy Finances His Trips With Snakes

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — (AP) — Fourteen-year-old Gene Berman and his 23 snakes were nearer Drexel Hill, Pa., and home today.

Police picked him up yesterday thinking he was a runaway.

They found he was carrying in a box a four-foot, seven inch boa constrictor, 21 baby constrictors, and a three-foot Everglades rat snake.

Gene told horrified policewomen at the juvenile department of headquarters he was a dealer in snakes, that "it pays my expenses for trips," and that he had left home July 3 with a friend who since has gone on to New Mexico.

Berman said he got the snakes trading around in Florida, but he and his friend found "a handsome coral snake the other night when we were camping near Lake City in a pine grove."

The friend took the coral, but Berman said "I have half interest in it."

Flood Is Awful, President Says

Bill For $25,000,000 Disaster Aid Signed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — ". . . awful . . . the worst thing I've ever seen."

With that appraisal, President Truman flew back to Washington early today after a whirlwind tour of the Kansas-Missouri-Oklahoma flood area. He called the flood the greatest disaster this country "has ever suffered from water."

Upon his return Mr. Truman announced he would sign as soon as it reaches his desk an emergency $25,000,000 flood relief bill passed by the Senate yesterday.

The House had acted on Monday. Senate passage by voice vote came after that body refused to follow its appropriations committee's suggestion and trim the bill to $15,000,000. That was the amount Mr. Truman asked originally.

The president was working, too, on plans for helping his native Missouri and its neighboring states recover from the disaster.

He told Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson, who made the 2,500 mile, 12-hour trip with him, to get together right away with federal and state officials to "meet this situation as promptly as possible in every manner that is necessary to alleviate suffering" and to put the stricken region back on its feet.

United States Sees Spain As Link In Defense Of Europe

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson announced today that the United States has opened talks with Spain's Franco government on its possible role in the defense of Europe. He conceded that this country is split with Britain and France on the question.

Acheson declared in a statement read to his news conference that "military authorities are in general agreement that Spain is of strategic importance to the general defense of western Europe."

Acheson said he understands the Spanish government may make an announcement tomorrow about changing some of its policies which have been critized here as dictatorial.

Referring to Adm. Forrest Sherman's talk with Franco on Monday, Acheson said it was "natural" that talks should be started to find out what Spain "might be willing and able to do" to build up the common defenses against possible aggression. Sherman, chief of naval operations, is on a European tour concerned mainly with Atlantic pact defenses. Spain is not a member of the defense alliance.

Acheson said:

"We have been talking with the British and French governments for many months about the possible role of Spain in relation to the general defense of western Europe.

"We have not been able to find a common position on this subject with these governments for reasons of which we are aware and understand. However, for the strategic reasons outlined above, the United States has initiated these exploratory conversations."

Acheson declared that any understanding which may be worked out with Spain will supplement "our basic policy of building the defensive strength of the west."

Cicero Lands On Page One Again

night of April 27, 1926.

This was the scene:

Three men were on the sidewalk in front of the Pony Inn. A touring car rolled up. A tommy gun was thrust through the curtains. It let go with a spray of slugs. The three human targets were killed.

Prosecutor Slain

One of them was Jimmy Doherty, a beer runner. Another was Thomas "Red' Duffy, a minor Chicago politician. The third victim was assistant state's attorney William H. McSwiggin.

McSwiggin was known as "the hanging prosecutor" because of his success in obtaining convictions in murder trials. His death touched off a resounding hue and cry. The question—who killed McSwiggin and why?"—was raised. The answer never has been written in the official records.

There has been little more violent than occasional political squabbles in Cicero from the time Al Capone moved back to Chicago until Harvey Clark tried to move into Cicero.

Cicero's history and statistics are pretty much in the normal grove.

The town was incorporated in 1867. The name was suggested by an early settler who had migrated from Cicero, N. Y. The community for years was a model of propriety. (An ordinance of 1883 made it illegal to "display the undergarments of females in store windows.")

Grows To 70,000

Cicero now has a population of 70,000, a gain of some 5,000 in the past decade. Twenty-seven nationalities are represented. The largest groups are of Czech (about 58 per cent) and Polish (about 22 per cent) extraction.

Most of the citizens own their homes. A high percentage of them are skilled craftsmen. The town includes 115 factories and 21 churches.

The townfolk have a reputation for thrift. This attribute may explain, as well as anything, why Al Capone's brother, Ralph, quit operating a Cicero night club.

There is another statistic that may be significant. If you run down the list of 64 men and youths who were arrested as a result of last Thursday night's riot, you will find: 19 live in Cicero. The others live in Chicago (29) and other communities.

Government Help Rushed To Region Ruined By Flood

Kansas, the cleanup job is underway in sections free or partially free of water.

An emergency ban on non-essential businesses in Kansas City, Mo., has been lifted and many normal operations were resumed today.

There still was a water shortage. Flood waters knocked out the city's main pumping station.

Plants Full Of Mud

Certain traffic restrictions remained in effect. Bridges rendered inoperative during the flood threw a heavy load on the two main links still open and caused traffic congestions.

A tremendous cleanup task is necessary before normal life can be resumed.

A tremendous cleanup task is necessary before normal life can be resumed.

There are broken water and gas mains, damaged streets and highways, wrecked power and light transmission lines.

Thick coatings of muck and debris must be cleared from industrial plants. Machinery has to be repaired or replaced.

Twisted tracks and wrecked freight cars litter the railroad yards in Kansas City and smaller terminals in Kansas. Roadbeds and bridges must be repaired.

ST. LOUIS PREPARES

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — (AP) — Emergency crews worked feverishly today to bulwork dikes and check rising water that already has caused a loss of nearly $1,000,000 to factories and rail yards here.

Four hundred residents of West Alton, Mo., ignored warnings to evacuate their low-lying homes as army engineers abandoned efforts to strengthen dikes to the point where they could hold back the torrents.

The situation at St. Louis was becoming worse hourly as the mighty Missouri continued to pour its tremendous volume of flood waters into the Mississippi. A stage of 40 feet was forecast for St. Louis by Saturday.

St. Louis city officials said there appeared to be no danger to the city of St. Louis. But they met with Red Cross officials to prepare emergency flood plans, just in case. The plans were believed to cover an emergency water distribution system in case the city's plants are put out of commission.

Thousands of persons still were homeless in the Missouri-Kansas floor area upstream.

Water had subsided at Kansas City, but the major portions of the flooded industrial districts were under eight to 10 feet of water at some places.

At Topeka, nearly 8,000 persons still lived in refugee centers because of deep flood waters pouring over their homes.

Silver Jubilee Bible Camp At Fortune Lake

Fortune Lake Bible Camp of the Augustana Lutheran church is this week celebrating its 25th anniversary with over one hundred young people of the Superior Conference Luther League attending.

The camp which began Sunday will continue through the week closing with an all-conference service on Sunday afternoon, July 22, at 4:00 p. m., EST at which time Rev. T. E. Johnstone, president of the Superior Conference and pastor of Salem Lutheran church of Ironwood will be the speaker. This will be the last opportunity the people of the Superior Conference will have to hear Rev. Johnstone as he is leaving to take a new parish in Palo Alto, Calif. Also at this service a massed choir made up of the choirs from the fifty churches in the Superior Conference will combine under the direction of Leonard Lilyers of Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill.

According to the president of the Luther League, Rev. Gustav Lund, of Escanaba, the public is cordially invited to attend this anniversary service. Arrangements have been made to take care of over-flow groups by the use of amplifiers which can be heard in the cars, rain or shine.

Those planning to make a day of it should come in time for the communion service at 10:45 and the cornerstone laying of the new church in Crystal Falls at 2:30 p. m., EST. There are excellent facilities for family picnics at Bewabic Park.

Attending the camp from this district are:

Escanaba: Carol Westerberg, Milton Peterson, Jerry Olson, Vince Nelson, Kenneth Nelson, Mary Nelson, Joan Nelson, Mary Costley, Donna Carlson, Ann Aronson, Barbara Anderson, Mrs. Viola Dahlbeck and Karen, Rev. and Mrs. Gustav Lund and family and Philemon Anderson.

Gladstone: Ione Wickstrom, Lorraine Sundelius, Roger Lamberg, Barbara Gabrielson, Richard Buckman, Melvin Bloomquist, John Beach, Judy Artley and Rev. and Mrs. Clifford Peterson and family.

Bark River: LeRoy Johnson, Robert Johnson, Pat Bolm.

Brampton: Davis Nivison.

Manistique: Victoria Nelson, Roberta Nelson, Mary Ellen Gillard, Stanley Arnold.

Social Situations

When you and your husband are visiting in a friend's home, he does something you consider rude.

WRONG: Correct his manners.

RIGHT: Never take it upon yourself to correct the manners of another adult—even if it happens to be your husband.

Milk Can be a Party Drink!

By MARY MANNING

MARY MANNING

A glass of cold, fresh FAIRMONT MILK is a grand treat anytime.

Its deep-down creamy goodness pleases, satisfies, refreshes.

Teenagers and adults need this nourishing food every day. It's the "Grow" food—the "Go" food.

There are so many ways to serve FAIRMONT MILK — ways that appeal to every member of the family. Here's a regular party drink that is delicious and healthful. Try it. This recipe serves 6.

Banana Milk Punch

Mash 4 ripe bananas until smooth and creamy. Beat yolks of two eggs until thick. Add one quart of cold FAIRMONT MILK, mashed banana, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat whites of two eggs until stiff and fold into above mixture. Blend thoroughly. Serve very cold, topping each glass with three teaspoons Fairmont Vanilla Ice Cream, and a sprinkling of grated nutmeg or chopped nuts.

Here's a real party fare — made with delicious FAIRMONT MILK. Try it. You'll say it's the best milk in town.

Miss Gillette Bride, Wedding At Manistique

BLANEY-GREEN SCHOOL — Baskets of gladiolus and roses of varied shades decorated the altar of Zion Lutheran church in Manistique for the wedding Saturday afternoon, July 14, of Miss Sally Ann Gillette, daughter of Mrs. Cecil Gillette of Gulliver and Charles E. Kohuakka of Blaney Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kohuakka of Curtis.

The 3 o'clock service was read by the Rev. G. A. Herbert.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Klagstad, brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

The bride wore a white flowered marquisette frock, street length with white accessories and her flowers were a corsage of red roses. Her matron of honor wore a rust crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage or roses.

Mrs. Gillette wore a Bemberg print of pink and white and the bridegroom's mother a green crepe. Both had corsages of pink and white sweetpeas.

The wedding supper was served immediate family members at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Olson, Green School location. The newlyweds after a honeymoon in the Copper Country will live at Blaney Park.

The bride attended Manistique high school. Her husband attended McMillan high school and served in the U. S. Navy two years. He now is employed by Earl Schofield.

TEEN TALK

BY VIVIAN BROWN

(AP) Newsfeatures

How're your recreation manners?

There are many unwritten rules in the world of summer sport, and if you just naturally do the lady-like thing and observe them perhaps you will not need to be briefed. But some of us need a refresher course in manners occasionally, and particularly if we are just learning a sport, it is good to observe social amenities which do not necessarily appear in the printed sports rules. Her goes:

Horseback Riding . . . Be kind to the horse, yourself and other people by not trying to get the poor creature to cross a road in traffic. If he gets panicky you might have a serious accident. Also, treat the animal kindly. The riding stable might bar you if you are mean to an animal — and if they don't, they should.

Golf . . . If you are a slow player or a beginner don't hold up players in the rear. Let the group behind you go ahead, in particular let them drive before you putt While they walk toward the green do your putting.

Boating . . . If you are invited on a canoe ride, or invite someone to take one with you, don't change seats, stand up or jump around, endangering the person's life in the event the canoe upsets. Particularly on a large boat observe "no smoking" regulations. Smart alecks who violate safety rules aboard ship are likely to wind up in the briny deep or as a big cinder.

Tennis . . . Two sets of tennis should be plenty on a crowded day at the courts. If you've completed one set and notice a line forming — go on to your second set, but it would be kinder to call it a day, and give the other fellow a break.

Swimming . . . The water wag is a real bore to everyone. Don't duck or splash other swimmers. Observe life-guard rules and don't give him a headache trying to keep up with your efforts to drown yourself by going out above your head, if you are not a good swimmer. Particularly where there is no lifeguard, don't taunt companions to deeper water than they are capable of or to dangerous high diving.

Picnics . . . It doesn't pay to be greedy. Don't eat more than your share, and if you possibly can do with less, make the sacrifice. It is better to nave a little food left over, and to coaxe people to eat it, than to have someone left hungry because you didn't know when to stop.

Be a good sport about doing your share of the work, also. See that everything is arranged before you begin to have fun And, don't be the first one away from the scene, leaving others to do the clean-up job. Be sure all boxes, bottles, cans and other litter, are picked up and put in a disposal unit.

The Dance . . . Observe the rules of dress at the resort you are visiting. Don't enter the dining room in shorts or slacks if the custom is to dress. Don't be an exhibitionist on the dance floor. Jitterbugs should not try to strut their stuff, if the dancing by others is more sedate. At a resort the chaperone or social director will inform you as to the custom to be followed.

Weekend Guest . . . If you are a weekend guest, don't try to run the show. Your host or hostess probably has planned your entertainment, so when they suggest a swim or a hike or a picnic, don't say "aw, let's not." If you accept a weekend date you are at the mercy of the people who invite you. If you don't wish to visit them on that basis — don't go. Any hostess, however, will appreciate suggestions, and might sometimes ask for them. But don't be thinking up ideas that will disrupt the routine of the entire household. Be considerate. And above all, don't criticize anything in your hostesses home.

The Jalopy . . .When inviting a crowd to a drive, make sure you take them in comfort Besides normal safety hazards involved in piling a gang of kids in a car, it shouldn't be much fun if there isn't enough room for comfort.

Blasting Helps Clear Harbor

Pilings That Menaced Water Craft Removed

The last of the underwater obstructions in the Gladstone harbor that menaced water craft have been cleared away, it is learned from Clyde Cole, commodore of the Gladstone Yacht club and Gladstone harbormaster.

A number of pilings and a steel rail, which Cap Gallagher had been unable to take at the time he removed several hundred yards of fill and put it on the breakwater, were dynamited under the direction of Cole.

Another improvement in the harbor is the construction of a plank or wooden walk along the entire east side of the harbor to join the dock and walk in front of the Yacht club.

The harbor improvement is a joint project of the Gladstone Yacht club and the City of Gladstone.

Another harbor improvement to be carried out here in the near future will be the dredging of the mouth of the commercial and small boat harbor at the foot of Fifth street. Capt. Gallagher will do this work enroute to Escanaba from Kipling where he is now at work on a dredging project.

Joe Svoke Is Shoot Winner

Noses Out Kallerson In Pistol Event

Trooper Joe Svoke won this week's pistol shoot held Tuesday evening at the range of the Gladstone Rifle and Pistol club on the north bluff.

The Michigan State trooper, who incidentally is president of the rifle and pistol club, shot a 279 which with a handicap of 4 gave him a total of 283.

In second place was Chief of Police Torval Kallerson, last week's winner, who shot a 278. He was shooting from scratch. Police Officer Jim Norick was third with 274, Hubert Bray fourth with 270 and George Minne fifth with 264.

Seventeen participated in the the shoot. Others firing the course were Alfred May, Bill LaFond, Albert Mortier, Swan Widar, Frank Stemac, Marion Long, Herb Holmberg, Joe Moreau, Vernon Long, Francis Gobert, Trooper George Craft and Arlon Long.

Lunch was served at the close of the shoot.

The new was lighting system, recently installed in the clubhouse, was used last night for the first time.

The shoots are being held weekly on Tuesday evening during the summer months. Either .22 or .38 caliber weapons may be used and a handicap system is used to provide incentive to inexperienced shooters.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
The liver should pour out about 2 pints of bile juice into your digestive tract every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the digestive tract. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
It takes those mild, gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills, 37¢ at any drugstore.

Sylvester Schram President Of Past Commanders' Club

Sylvester Schram has been named as president of the Past Commanders' Club of August Mattson Post to succeed Joe Hillewaert. His brother, James V. Schram was named as secretary to succeed O'Neil D'Amour.

The election was held at a recent meeting of the club held at the camp of R. A. Hale on the Whitefish River near the mouth of the Chippeny Creek.

Norman Knutsen, who served the Gladstone post as commander the past year, was inducted into the club.

Harvey D'Amour of Miami, Fla., was a guest at the meeting.

A wallyed-pike dinner was served the group. It was prepared by Hale, Walter Lied and George Perrin.

8 Guardsmen Are Promoted

Plans Being Made For Camp Grayling

Eight recent promotions have been reported for the Manistique National Guard company, it is announced.

Pfc. John Quick has been promoted to corporal, and the following four privates have been advanced to private, first class: Ronald G. Patrick, John L. Oberg, Vernon F. Popour and Duane M. McGahan.

Promoted from private, first grade, to private, second grade, are the following men: Bert V. Kaiser, Harold Sangraw and Clyde A. Woodruff.

Plans for the annual encampment at Camp Grayling also are being made by the local company, it is announced.

Two advance details have been selected to leave for Grayling on August 7, a few days ahead of the camp opening. One composed of Pfc. John N. Louis and Pfc. Hugh Binder will attend a cooking school and the other, composed of Pvt. Carl G. Louis and Cpl. John P. Quick, will arrange for the setting up of camp for the Manistique Guards.

The Manistique group will run its own mess hall this year instead of sharing it with another company, it is reported. It also was announced that the minimum payment for each Guardsman attending this year's encampment will be $67.50.

Capt. E. J. Doyle, commanding officer of the local company, is expected back from officers' training school at Fort Belvoir, Va., on July 30 and will lead his group at Grayling again.

109 Report At Plasma Clinic

73 Units Of Blood Shipped To Lansing

A total of 109 persons reported for the blood plasma procurement program Monday at the Knights of Columbus hall. it is announced by Mrs. Carl Makel, general chairman.

Seventy-eight were accepted as donors and 31 were rejected. A total of 78 units of blood taken at the clinic was shipped to Lansing in insulated cases for processing. Fifty-three pints of the plasma obtained will be furnished to the national defense program, and the rest will be returned to Manistique for local use.

Fewer persons volunteered for the clinic this year than last, but a large number of those who gave blood last year are listed on a permanent donor roll for the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital, Mrs. Makel said. Many of these persons, therefore, did not give blood, holding themselves in reserve for emergency needs at the hospital, the plasma chairman added.

Approximately half of the donors Monday were new ones.

Committees in charge of the program follow:

Publicity: Mrs. John Moffat, chairman; Mrs. Benjamin Karwoski, Miss Lael Richards, Miss Laraine Anderson.

Registration: Mrs. Malcolm Nelson chairman; Mrs. Aldred Farley, Mrs. A. W. Cockram, and Miss Carol Green.

Press Carrier Boy Injured In Bike-Car Crash

Dan Viergever, 12. Escanaba Daily Press carrier, suffered painful knee and neck injuries about 3 p. m. yesterday when he was hit by a car while riding his bicycle on US-2 near the Kefauver and Jackson funeral home.

He was taken to the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital for treatment. X-ray films had not been read late yesterday and it was undetermined whether there were any bone fractures.

It was expected that he would be removed to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Viergever, 507 Garden avenue, today.

The boy, sent down town on an errand, was returning home when the accident occurred. His father reported that he was following behind an eastbound truck and swung across US-2 to turn up Arbutus avenue. His bicycle was struck by a car driven by Basil Reid, of Gulliver.

Reid, driving west on US-2, pulled to his right in an unsuccessful effort to avoid hitting the bicycle. His car ran up over the surb and knocked over a highway sign near the Anderson Zypher Service station driveway.

Manistique city police who investigated the accident reported that Reid was traveling at a moderate rate of speed.

Boy Gets Minor Burns In Blaze At Sunset Beach

Ken Streeter, 14, received minor arm burns and a cottage was damaged in a fire Monday evening at the Sunset Beach resort, Indian Lake.

Propane gas was accidentally ignited while the boy was changing a tank connected with the cottage kitchen. Flames burned his arm and damaged the north kitchen wall to the extent of approximately $150.

The Manistique fire department received the call at 7:47 p. m., and the county truck, driven by Fireman John Blomquist, was dispatched to the scene. Neighboring resorters had succeeded in extinguishing the fire before the truck arrived, however.

Blomquist administered first aid to the boy and he was later treated at the Wehner clinic in Manistique.

W. S. Crowe of the Indian Lake company, which operates Sunset Beach resort, reported that the kitchen north wall will have to be rebuilt. The cottage, formerly used as a tea room, is occupied by the resort caretaker, Mrs. Dale Streeter, and her son, Ken, of Germfask.

More than 13,000,000 acres of land have been ruined by wind and water erosion in the United States.

HERE'S GOOD NEWS for all sufferers of Rheumatism, Arthritis, extreme nervous condition and associated ills. A 35 year old medicine has been proven by over a million people in Michigan to be the most effective medicine in the constant struggle against the painful and crippling effects of Rheumatism and Arthritis. O-JIB-WA BITTERS is not just a food supplement, but an all-herb medicine entirely free of alcohol and temporary pain-deadening drugs.

The herbs in O-JIB-WA BITTERS nationally recognized for their thereuputic values, strike to correct the cause of Rheumatism, Arthritis and stomach disorders by clearing the blood of poisons and waste, stimulating sluggish organs and promoting better digestion.

Smith

So many encouraging results have recently been credited to this wonderful medicine, that it is rapidly becoming recognized as THE medicine to take for Rheumatism and Arthritis.

Typical of the wonderful work this medicine is doing is the case of Mr. Howard A. Smith of Flint, Michigan who reports that he couldn't raise his arms above his waist, and his fingers were so stiff he could hardly bend them. The terrible pain kept him awake at night, which made him so nervous that even talking to people upset him.

Now, thanks to O-JIB-WA BITTERS, he is no longer nervous, is completely free of pain and stiffness and able to enjoy a normal and healthy life again.

O-JIB-WA BITTERS is available in three economical sizes and recommended by

We'd like to see the managers of the Manistique Cardinals and Escanaba Bears get together to arrange an exhibition series between the two teams . . Both clubs rate at the top, or nearly, in their respective leagues . . . Manistique is currently riding a half-game out of first place in the Bay de Noc and Escanaba leads the Tri-County by the same margin.

* * * * *

A recent letter from a Manistique fan indicated that there is considerable interest there in the activity of the Bears . . . We don't know how interested Escanaba fans are in the Manistique team, but maybe the time is ripe to find out . . . We see no reason why a home-and-home series can't be cooked up . . . How about it?

* * * * *

Ironwood, defending district champs, dropped a 4-2 decision in Sunday's sub-district American Legion tournament to Bessemer . . . Mohawk won the Copper Country sub-district title in a 10-0 final game from L'Anse . . . Bessemer and Mohawk will join Iron River and Gwinn in the district tournament at Bessemer this week . . . The winner of the tourney will face the winner of the 11th district determined this weekend at Gladstone, with Gladstone, Menominee, Escanaba and Munising competing . . . That final tournament, for the right to represent the U. P. in the state meet at Iron River, will be held in Escanaba.

Eddie Feigner, rubber-armed royalty of the King and His Court softball team, has a lifetime pitching record that borders on the impossible . . . In 10 years of play, with nine-man teams and his Court, Feigner has fanned a total of 13,906 batsmen . . . In the 1950 season alone he fanned 303 of 379 batters he faced BLINDFOLDED . . . He has averaged 16 strikeouts a game over the 10-year period . . . Last season his four-man club ran up a string of 27 straight wins over regulation teams.

* * * * *

This four-man team of Feigner's is no phoney . . . The team asks for no breaks, and in fact leans over backwards to give the nine-man clubs the best of it . . . Here's how good the club really is . . . Last season the Court climaxed its strenuous national tour by traveling to Canada to face the Tip Top Tailors of Toronto, 1949 world's softball champs . . . The King allowed only three hits, two through the abbreviated infield, and fanned 17 batters, three while blindfolded . . . The teams played nine innings to a 0-0 draw, with the Court collecting four hits . . . That would be comparable to the world heavyweight boxing champion being held to a nine-round draw by a welterweight, with one hand tied behind his back . . . Or the Tigers belting Yankee Pitcher Allie Reynolds out of the box, with broomsticks.

Power & Light Takes Twin Bill

No Names And White Birch Are Victims

Power & Light swept both ends of a twin bill at Memorial field last night, topping No Names 3-0 and White Birch 6-4.

In the opener Bob Corriveau pitched a neat two-hitter, with Angie Hirn getting both the No Name hits. Barney Millette, center field, picked up two for three at the plate for the winners. Bud Kenneally served behind the plate.

Ike Eis and Angie Hirn made up the losing battery.

The nightcap was an impromptu affair, with Power & Light filling in for an opponent which failed to appear. Bill Courneene took over pitching duties against White Birch with Kenneally catching.

Delta Frame Wins

Don Paulin, first baseman, provided the winning margin with a one-on homer in the fifth. Franny and Leo Lancour shared pitching duties with Harry Lancour behind the plate for the losers.

Delta Frame edged Clairmont Transfer 4-3 in an Oldtimer league clash last night. Roy Madon, left fielder, tripled to send in Ray Hardy with the tying run and scored a moment later on a long fly to give Delta Frame the verdict in the final inning.

Fife Smith was the winning pitcher with Hardy catching. Wise and Engstrom worked the route for the losers.

Delta Frame also beat the Eagles 13-7 last Friday evening.

Gulfstream Park race track had its most successful season in history at its recent meeting. The daily mutuel average soared to better than $832,000—an increase of 17.1 per cent.

Hermansville Faces Bears Here Thursday

Hermansville invades the Escanaba diamond for an exhibition against the Bears Thursday afternoon in a twilight affair slated to start at 5:45.

The game will mark the second meeting of the Tri-County teams. The Bears topped Hermansville 6-1 several weeks ago but the result was reversed by the league protest board and forfeited to Hermansville because of the use of Mel Karkkainen by the Bears. Karkkainen was not yet eligible to play in the Tri-County circuit.

Big Jack Beck will open on the Bear mound. Beck tossed creditable ball against Wallace in last Sunday's washed out 2-2 league game.

Charles Favored To TKO Walcott

Title Bout Tonight In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH— (AP) —An enthusiastic Pittsburgh sees Ezzard Charles and Jersey Joe Walcott in their third heavyweight title clash tonight.

This is Pittsburgh's first heavyweight title scrap and the Forbes Field card has caught on big.

The only answer to the unusual stir over this road show is Charles. The 30-year-old Cincinnati Negro considers this his second home town and his appearance here in defense of his crown is a fulfillment of an old promise.

4 To 1

Otherwise the furore would be difficult to understand. Lean Ezzard, in the sharpest condition of his life, is a 4 to 1 favorite in a very light betting market to whip the 37-year-old perennial challenger as decisively as he did in their other collisions in Chicago and Detroit.

Promoters already have $154,000 in the till and a crowd of 20,000 is expected to contribute over $175,000 for the 15-rounder. The bout is being telecast over a 49-station hookup by the Dumont network and will be broadcast by CBS.

The TV network estimated that over 60,000,000 people will watch the bout.

Predicts Knockout

"I'm going to knock him out," said the ancient Walcott. "It seems that's the only way I can win. I should have gotten the decisions in the first Louis fight and both of my fights with Charles."

The fight is scheduled for 9 p. m. (EST).

Charles, cautious as usual, said only "I'll win. Maybe by a knockout."

The pick here is Charles on a technical knockout. Charles came close in Detroit last March when he dropped Walcott for nine in the ninth.

Joe Louis will be on hand to watch his two former foes in action. If Charles wins and comes out undamaged, he will face the ex-champion in New York on Sept. 26.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Portland, Ore.—Harry "Kid" Matthews, 177, Seattle, knocked out Baby Dutch Culbertson, 189, Los Angeles, 4.

Los Angeles—Jackie Graves, 129½, Minneapolis, outpointed Manuel Ortiz, 137, El Centro, Calif., 10.

Paper Mill At Full Strength For King And His Court Tilt Saturday

The Paper Mill softball team, currently tied for the lead of the Escanaba American league, will be at full strength for its Saturday night clash with the King and His Court, Manager Bill Pfister said today.

Tom Elegeert has received the nod as starting pitcher for the Paper Mill club, with Paul Larson slated for relief duty. Dave Larson will catch.

U. P. Runner-ups

Paper Mill is consistently one of the strongest teams in the city. In 1948 the team won the Upper Peninsula championship, in 1949 and 1950 it won the district crown and last season was runner-up to Ironwood in the U. P. tournament.

Manager Pfister's boys have won nine against four defeats this season.

The main attraction will get underway at 8:30 under the lights at Memorial field. A fast preliminary will pit the No Names against Power & Light at 7.

In the King and His Court, Paper Mill will be facing the weirdest softball team in the world. The club is composed of only four players, a pitcher, catcher, first baseman and an outfielder.

Pitching Assortment

Its members field and run the bases like demons and blast the ball at the plate as if it were child's play. Mainstay of the team, of course, is pitcher Eddie Feigner who has more windups and deliveries than you'd believe possible.

Feigner (pronounced Fainer) pitches behind his back, between his legs, from second base, kneeling blindfold, from center field and does everything but stand on his head on the mound.

With any break from the weatherman, the largest crowd of the season is expected to jam Memorial field.

Relief Pitchers Will Get Tiger Starting Mound Nods

DETROIT— (AP) —This may become known as "relief pitchers' week" in Detroit.

Hank Borowy, a 35-year-old relief hurler who has spent most of the season in obscurity, looms as Manager Red Rolfe's latest choice for a starting role with the Tigers.

Hoot Evers

Red, whose fifth-place club captured a lazy 8-5 game from the Philadelphia Athletics last night before the smallest night crowd in Detroit history, said he was seriously considering starting the veteran righthander in Thursday's doubleheader against the Athletics.

That's not all. Red said he thought he would start righthander Marlin Stuart, the gray-haired relief pitcher who has no won-lost record, in the opening game against the fence-busting Boston Red Sox Friday night.

Of course Red may change his mind. But if he goes through with his idea, both hurlers would be making their first 1951 starts.

Last night Rolfe reached into the bull pen to get another starter —Virgil (Fire) Trucks. Trucks had started three previous games but had been used mostly as a reliefer. The big righthander had to be removed because of wildness but stayed around long enough to win his third game against two losses.

Stuart began developing a slider to go along with his curve about three weeks ago. He and Borowy apparently earned starting consideration because of their recent relief work against the mighty New York Yankees.

Trucks Wild

Borowy gave up only one hit in 5 1/3 innings and Stuart, who appeared twice, allowed three hits in 7 innings.

Trucks wasn't as effective. He handed out five hits and added seven bases on balls in his share of the drawn-out game. When Trout relieved him in the early part of the sixth inning, two hours of play had elapsed. The last three innings were played in 40 minutes.

Hoot Evers, who hadn't rapped a base hit in 16 straight appearances, battered a double to score the first Tiger run in the second inning. Trucks and Vic Wertz followed with bases-loaded singles to tally four more runs before loser Alex Kellner retired the side.

Rookie Lou Limmer, the Athletics' fill-in at first base for injured Ferris Fain, rammed a three-run homer in the third inning. Half of his four major league homers have been hit in Detroit.

In the fourth inning the Tigers took a 7-3 lead when Johnny Groth doubled home two runners. Groth socked two doubles and a single. The Tigers added one more run and the A's two in late innings.

Nahma Defeats Bosch Oldtimers By 10 To 4

The Bosch Oldtimers of Manistique lost their first game this week, bowing 10-4 to Nahma.

Winning Pitcher Anderson scattered five hits. J. Kasun, the loser, was rapped for 14.

Williams belted a line-drive homer over the head of the left fielder to pace the winners at the plate. Bosch and Christy's Bar are tied for first place in the league with three wins, one loss apiece.

Karkkainen Fans 16 As Bears Win

Cardinals Fall 6-4 At Lighted Field

"Pell" Mel Karkkainen hustled his fast ball past 16 strikeout victims last night as the Escanaba Bears whipped the Iron Mountain-Kingsford Cardinals 6-4 under the lights at Kingsford.

Karkkainen unraveled a three-hitter for the benefit of the Cardinal fans to give the Bears revenge for a previous defeat here at the hands of the NWM league leaders. The Esky righthander gave up singles in the third and fourth innings and a double in the ninth.

The Cardinals scored three of their four runs in the last of the ninth when Karkkainen walked two and served up a double to Gary Steiner, catcher. Two Bear errors were committed in the frame.

Batting in the cleanup spot, Karkkainen singled, drew three walks, was hit by the pitcher, fanned once, and scored a run. His single drove in Joe Ricci with the first Bear run in the initial inning.

Dean Bailey and Bob Dufour led the Bears to seven hits off two Cardinal hurlers, Ray Process and Joe Steiner. Both had a pair of singles.

Los Angeles Rams Open Grid Training

PHILADELPHIA— (AP) — Despite the hot weather and the heated baseball pennant races, football is with us again.

The Los Angeles Rams kick off the National Football League training season today in Redlands, Calif. All 12 NFL teams will be in training action by August 6.

The Rams, National division champions, are training at Redlands university. Los Angeles lost the NFL title to the Cleveland Browns in a thrilling game in Cleveland last December

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Eddie Robinson, White Sox —singled in the 10th to score Eddie Stewart with the run that gave the White Sox a 4-3 victory over the Yankees.

Pitching—Bob Feller, Indians—became the first major league pitcher to win 13 games, beating Boston's Red Sox, 8-6.

All-Star Little League Game Tickets On Sale

Tickets to the Little League all-star game Sunday afternoon at Memorial field went on sale today, with the little baseball players themselves handling the distribution end.

The booster game is being staged to help raise funds to finance a Little League all-star team to the Michigan state tournament next week at Midland.

The tickets are priced at 25 cents each but the Little League stars won't mind if some fans kick in with a little extra. They figure they'll need about $400 to finance the tournament trip and room and board at Midland. That's if they win the tournament, and they are thinking of doing nothing but.

St. Joe vs. All-Stars

The Sunday game at Memorial field promises to be a corker as well. St. Joe Boosters, paced by mound ace Gary Paler, will face an all-star aggregation selected from Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions. St. Joe won the first half championship of the league which was inaugurated here this season.

All-stars from the four-team league named this week to make the tournament trip to Midland are:

Roger Flath, Allan Erickson, Cliff O'Donnell, Tony Kutches, Charles McCarthy, Dean Lewis, Tony Derkos, Dwaine Marenger, Gary Hirn, Rick Erickson, Bill Goodreau and Gary Paler.

Canada Draws U. S. Gridders

MONTREAL — (AP)—Canadian football had two more United States imports in its ranks today —but had lost another.

Bob Alger, Los Angeles Rams' fullback for the past two years, signed a contract with the Calgary Stampeders to make a total of six former U. S. players on the team.

Lindy Berry joined the Edmonton Eskimos after a trip from Texas by car.

Rip Collins, however, who signed with the Montreal Alouettes two months ago, pulled out, wiring Coach Lew Hayman: "I received a call from Commissioner Bert Bell and I have definitely decided to stay here in the states and play with Green Bay."

Heyman replied:

"American football is certainly not acknowledging our 1951 contracts since it becomes quite obvious that pressure is being used on our imports to jump their signed contracts with us."

Bell said in Philadelphia that Heyman signed Collins after he was legally bound in Green Bay, pointing out that the contract was transferred to Green Bay when Baltimore dropped out of the league.

Bell commented that "they're merely trying to entice boys to violate contracts by offering them more money. I advised the boy he was legally and morally bound to play for Green Bay."

Pitt Grid Coach Goes To Oregon

PITTSBURGH— (AP) —Len Casanova, the man Pittsburgh hoped would pilot the Panthers back to big time collegiate football, has a new job today as head coach at the University of Oregon.

Casanova asked Pitt to be released from a four-year contract and was immediately assured there would be no hitch in getting freedom.

At the same time Oregon announced that Casanova would take over as head coach as soon as he is released by Pitt and the Oregon State board of higher education approves.

Casanova, in his one year at Pitt, won only one game while losing eight. At Oregon Casanova will succeed Jim Aiken. Aiken resigned to enter business.

Casanova came to Pittsburgh from the University of Santa Clara in California. He told Pitt he decided to change because his family is homesick for the Pacific coast.

Casanova was Pitt's fifth coach in the last 12 years.

White Sox Snatch 4-3 Victory From Yankees

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The White Sox fold? Don't tell that to Casey Stengel and his New York Yankees.

Bob Feller

They know better after what happened to them last (Tuesday) night. They had Chicago whipped only to see Paul Richards' amazing Sox snatch the victory right out of their mitts with a three-run blast in the eighth inning and the "decider" in the tenth.

Chicago won, 4-3, after trailing 2-0 in the eighth. The triumph gave the Sox sole possession of second place in the American league, only two percentage points behind the pace-setting Boston Red Sox.

Feller Wins 13th

Cleveland climbed into a virtual third place tie with New York, defeating the Red Sox, 8-6, as Bob Feller became the first pitcher to rack up 13 triumphs. Only a game and a half separate the four clubs.

The outlook was gloomy for Chicago as the Sox faced Allie (No-Hit) Reynolds in the eighth trailing because of Hank Bauer's two-run homer in the seventh.

But, as on so many previous occasions, the never-say-die White Sox refused to concede. A walk, successive singles by Nellie Fox, Eddie Stewart and Minnie Minoso — and the score was tied at 2-2. Eddie Robinson grounded out and Stewart crossed the plate with the lead run.

Tied In 9th

The Yankees knotted the count at 3-3 in the ninth on a pair of walks, a double by pinch hitter Bobby Brown and Johnny Hopp's infield out.

A double play stopped the White Sox in their half of the ninth. In the 10th, however, with Stubby Overmire on the hill, Stewart doubled. After Minoso was given an intentional pass, Robinson came through with a single to center, bringing Stewart home with the winning run.

A near-capacity crowd of 45,580 saw big Paul Rogovin go the distance for his sixth win. Rogovin was making his first start since his heart-breaking 17-inning loss to the Red Sox last Thursday.

Brooklyn Loses

Feller yielded eight hits including home runs to Lou Boudreau and pinch hitter Charley Maxwell as the Indians moved to within three percentage points of the third place Yankees.

Tommy Byrne of the St. Louis Browns shut out Washington, 2-0, on four hits after Sandy Consuegra had pitched the Senators to a 7-2 victory over the Browns in the first game of a twin bill.

Pittsburgh's last place Pirates nipped Brooklyn, 4-3, but the Dodgers retained their eight-game lead in the National league as both New York and St. Louis were beaten. The Chicago Cubs defeated the second place Giants, 7-4, and the Boston Braves shut out the third place Cardinals, 4-0. Cincinnati beat Philadelphia 9-8, but the Phils came back to win the second game, 10-0.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the many friends and neighbors who by their acts of kindness in the death of our beloved brother and father, helped to lighten our burden of sorrow. Especially do we thank the Rev. Karl Hammar for his consoling words, the Tony Rivard Post of the American Legion, the pallbearers, those who sent floral offerings and other expressions of sympathy, and to those who offered the use of their cars. We thank you all.

Signed:
Family of Joseph Grapel.

27,000 Polio Cases Forecast

U. S. Had 43,000 Record In 1949

ANN ARBOR—Approximately 27,000 cases of polio will occur in the United States during 1951, a University of Michigan School of Public Health statistician has predicted.

"There are a number of reasons for supposing that 1951 will be far less severe year for polio than the record year of 1949 during which about 43,000 cases were reported," Dr. Fay M. Hemphill indicated.

Dr. Hemphill's "guesstimate" is based on figures supplied to him through the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc., by the United State Public Health Service which receives weekly reports from the various state health departments throughout the nation.

Since June, 1950, he has been making a continous statistical study of the areas and number of polio cases occurring in the United States. His studies are sponsored by grants from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc.

In the twenty-sixth week of last year, Dr. Hemphill predicted that slightly over 32,000 cases of polio would occur during 1950, and the year's final figure revealed that 33,271 cases were reported.

Although the U-M statistician believes 1951 will be far under 1949 in the number of reported polio cases, he pointed out that by the ninth week of this year a greater total number of cases had been reported than during the first nine weeks of 1949.

However, Dr. Hemphill said that by the twenty-sixth week of 1951 the United States total was 2,830 reported cases which was 350 cases less than the total of the first twenty-six weeks of 1949.

He added that the weekly figures indicated that only 340 cases were reported during the twenty-sixth week of 1951 as compared to the 480 cases reported during the twenty-sixth week of 1949.

"This lower level of weekly polio incidence at this time of year is one of the major factors that leads me to forecast a much lower total number of polio cases for 1951," Dr. Hemphill explained.

Plant Chief Charles Titus with two of his friends at Sigma Gamma Hospital School for Crippled Children

Service doesn't keep "office hours"

CHARLES TITUS has lived in Mt. Clemens thirty years, most of that time as Michigan Bell's Plant Chief. That's a lot of service to one company and to one community. But, as his fellow citizens know, it isn't half the story.

After hours, Charles Titus finds time—or makes time—to help with a recreational and educational program at the Sigma Gamma Hospital School for Crippled Children. In 1943, Mr. Titus helped organize the Mt. Clemens Community Chest—just one of his many wartime activities. The first chairman of the Mt. Clemens Recreation Commission, he is at present Secretary of the city's Planning Commission.

In many ways his community profits from the "spare time" of Michigan Bell's Mt. Clemens Plant Chief.

'Moisture Tests Mean Money, Especially at Harvest Time'

says Arthur Johnston
Cavalier, N. D., farmer

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Art Johnston is one of many topnotch farmers around Cavalier, N. D. And like dozens of others, he has come to depend on his local Peavey Elevator manager—C. F. Schafer—for grain moisture tests that are mighty important to him and to all farmers.

Last fall, Charley ran moisture tests on as many as 60 samples a day for his farmer friends.

Charley is rounding out his twenty-fifth year as a Peavey Elevator manager, and Art Johnston speaks the sentiments of a lot of farmers when he says: "Anytime Charley can do anything to help us farmers, he does it. He's always on the ball—he knows grain—and he's honest as the sun."

Charley Schafer has a modest answer to such praise. "As I see it," he says, "I'm just trying to be helpful—that's the Peavey way of doing business."

There's a Peavey man in your neighborhood too. Call on him often. He wants to help you in every way he can.
